Admiral Withholds Statement on Denby's Order for Report on Remarks, Pending Receipt of Cable.

GUEST AT LUNCHEON OF U. S. OFFICERS

Navy Man Reported to Have Assailed Irish Sympathizers in U. S. in Address at London Tuesday.

LONDON, June 9.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N., is quoted by the Press Association today as saying this morning with regard to the speech he delivered on the Irish question here Tuesday:

"I stand by all I said, every word of it. I don't repudiate a single word I said, and I see nothing in the speech he delivered on the Irish question here Tuesday."

Admiral Sims this morning had not received the cablegram sent him by Secretary of the Navy Denby, asking him to inform the American naval department if he was correctly quoted in press reports of the speech, delivered at a luncheon. The Admiral added that pending the receipt of the Secretary's cablegram, he could make no statement.

Admiral Sims' speech was given a prominent place on the front pages of London newspapers, but there has been a noticeable absence of editorial comment on his declarations.

Admiral Sims was a guest at a luncheon given by American naval officers here today, and this afternoon he is to attend a tea at the House of Commons. He will be present at the dinner given by the Queenstown Association here tonight.

Speaking at a luncheon given by the English-Speaking Union at London on Tuesday, Admiral Sims was reported to have made a bitter attack upon Irish sympathizers in America. He was said to have declared:

"They are like snakes—either black horses with white stripes or white horses with black stripes. But we know they are not horses—they are snakes. Each of these snakes, however, has a vote, and there are lots of them." He declared that the persons he assailed were Americans "who they want money, but Sinn Feiners when on the platform," and added, "they are making war on America today," according to cabled versions of his remarks.

Investigation of Sims' Speech Ordered by Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Investigation of the recent speech in London by Rear Admiral Sims, touching on Irish sympathizers in this country, was ordered by the Senate today without a record vote. The resolution was offered by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi.

LEGION CHIEFTAIN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

F. W. GALBRAITH JR.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 9.—F. W. Galbraith Jr., national commander of the American Legion, was killed, and Henry J. Ryan of Indianapolis, national director of the legion's American commission, and Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, national committeeman of the legion from Illinois, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding went over an embankment here early this morning.

The men were returning to the city from the country club in Ryan's car. The car failed to make a slight turn in the road and ran over the curb. Across the sidewalk and turned over several times, landing at the foot of a 20-foot embankment. All three men were thrown clear of the car as it went down.

Galbraith suffered a fractured skull in the fall and died on the way to the hospital.

Find Broken Connection. Ryan, who was driving the car, declared he believed a defect in the steering apparatus caused him to lose control of the machine. He and Foreman were only slightly injured.

Coroner Paul F. Robinson made an investigation immediately after the accident. An examination of the wrecked machine showed a broken connection of the steering wheel.

The men were driving in the Union Station here from the country club, according to Ryan, where Galbraith, accompanied by Foreman and William Q. Seiffert, Adjutant of the Department of Illinois of the American Legion, were to have caught an early morning train for Chicago. Seiffert and Foreman were returning there after attending a meeting of the National Finance Committee of the American Legion here, while Galbraith intended stopping there preliminary to starting on a speaking tour in behalf of legislation before Congress sponsored by the American Legion.

Galbraith's body was taken to the city morgue until removed to his home in Cincinnati, his old position of farmer upon his tract of 160 acres, Gilman Wagon, who married Mrs. Miller seven years ago, has filed suit for the annulment of the marriage.

TWO ST. LOUISANS AMONG SEVEN INDICTED IN DECK MURDER

James Seward and Eugene Hayes Included in Those Named by Hillsboro Grand Jury.

Indictments charging the first degree murder of Andrew Deck, a former saloon keeper at Herculaneum, Mo., Feb. 28 last, were returned by the grand jury at Hillsboro, Mo., today against James Seward, 1621 South Third street, Eugene Hayes, 1712 South Tenth street, and Ernest and William Hayes. Otto Thomas, Jesse Thomas and Elvin Thomas, all of Herculaneum. The cases were set for trial July 6.

Deck had been voluntarily giving information to prohibition enforcement officers and was seeking appointment as an enforcement agent. He was to have appeared as a witness in a bootlegging case.

Seward, in a confession about a week ago said he was hired to "beat up" Deck and went to Herculaneum for that purpose, but got into an altercation with Deck and shot him. He named members of the Hayes and Thomas families in connection with the plot and said Elvin Thomas drove him to St. Louis in an automobile after the shooting.

MONTH'S LAY-OFF FOR 200 CITY EMPLOYEES

Director McKelvey Announces Plan for Cutting Expenses of His Department.

As his contribution to cutting down the city's $1,000,000 deficit in funds to meet municipal administration expenses for the current year, Director of Public Safety McKelvey today announced that each of the 200 employees in his division, excepting heads of departments and city firemen, will be laid off one month without pay between now and next April. The employees will be laid off in groups and for periods of two weeks at a time, each employee having two of these periods of enforced idleness.

McKelvey estimates that these enforced lay-offs will result in a payroll saving of $24,000 for the year, but figures that this will still leave a deficit of $39,000 in the amount needed to run his department, as the amount of appropriation allowed him by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for this year was approximately $54,000 less than his estimate of the requirements.

The highest cut was in the appropriation for janitor hire. The large amount of money spent for janitor service by the city frequently was referred to by Democratic speakers in the spring majority election and McKelvey's department employs all of the janitors and elevator operators in municipal buildings. Last year it expended $116,720.43 for these purposes. This year McKelvey asked for $120,168 for janitor and elevator operator salaries, but was allowed only $50,000.

STATE CLOSES CASE IN TRIAL OF YOUNG

Ownership of Revolver Found by Body of Man Shot by Dry Agent at Issue.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 9.—State's Attorney Streuber of Madison County, prosecuting S. Glenn Young, former prohibition enforcement officer, for killing "Luko" Vukovic at Madison, Ill., Nov. 6, 1920, while raiding Vukovic's home for illicit liquor, closed his case today after calling only two witnesses, Vukovic's widow and Deputy Coroner Lahey.

Mrs. Vukovic testified that Young shot her husband after forcing his way into the house and compelling Vukovic to get out of bed and go into an adjoining room. Lahey testified that he found a revolver with two empty shells in it beside Vukovic's body.

Mrs. Kate Sever and her 9-year-old son, Tony, were called by the defense to impeach statements by Mrs. Vukovic that her husband did not own a revolver.

Revenue Agent David Nolan had testified that Mrs. Vukovic had told him that Young had gone into the bedroom and took her husband's revolver, placing it by his body after killing him. On her direct examination Mrs. Vukovic denied that her husband had a revolver.

Examination of Mrs. Sever showed that Nolan had questioned Mrs. Vukovic first on Dec. 2, with Tony acting as interpreter. On Dec. 3 he questioned her again, with Mrs. Sever acting as interpreter. Mrs. Sever testified that Nolan had written down a question and answer from Mrs. Vukovic had said that Young took her husband's revolver and placed it by her husband's side. Mrs. Sever testified that when she acted as interpreter on Dec. 3, Mrs. Vukovic denied making such a statement.

ment on the day previous, and that Nolan promised to change it. After a legal tilt the defense succeeded in getting evidence before the jury that Vukovic was engaged in the manufacture of "white mice."

District Attorney Knotts called Mike Sever, brother-in-law of the slain man, to the stand as a court's witness, thus affording either side the right to cross-examine. Knotts asked Sever who owned the "moonshine" paint in his cellar next door to the scene of the murder. Attorney for the prosecution objected, holding that it was not relevant, but the Court ruled against him. Sever answered that he did not know just who owned it. Knotts then asked him if he had not admitted to him on Feb. 1 that the paint was owned by Vukovic, when Sever then admitted.

Henry J. Jochim, chauffeur who piloted Young and Patrolman Hall driven to the scene, stated that he had given the two men to the place and the shooting Young came out and asked him to call an undertaker. Instead, he called Deputy Coroner Lahey. He did not know whether Young broke in the front door or not.

'MAN WITH A CAP' AND 4TH WOMAN HELD IN KABER CASE

Cleveland Detective Suspect He Has Actual Slayer and Woman "Professional Killer of Husbands."

FIVE PERSONS ARE NOW IN CUSTODY

Kaber Was Stabbed to Death in Home Two Years Ago

Mrs. Kaber, Her Daughter and Her Mother Are Accused.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CLEVELAND, June 9.—With the arrest yesterday of two suspects, a man and a woman, in the Dan Kaber murder case, the police believe they have rounded up the most important of the figures in the tragedy.

The man arrested is alleged to be the "man with a cap," who was accused by Dan Kaber, as he lay dying from 24 stab wounds in his abdomen, in his bedroom, in his home, in Lakewood, Cleveland suburb, two years ago, as the actual slayer of the victim.

The woman, according to the police, is a "professional killer," and murdered unwanted husbands at the rate of $1000 apiece.

The story of her operations in the last three years, as alleged by City Detective Mooney, who followed her for 18 months, is as follows:

"The Kaber case is not the first one we have regarded her as being mixed up in. I am convinced it was she who did away with the three husbands of one woman, but I have never been able to fix guilt for the crimes upon her as the prisoner."

Deaths Were Similar. "All died under similar circumstances. In each case the widow collected insurance. She is now living with her fourth husband."

"After the second husband of this woman died I became suspicious of the woman we now have in custody. I watched her but she was too clever. She while I shadowed the suspected prisoner, the third husband died, and in his organs were found traces of arsenic."

"Then came the Kaber murder and the case of the woman who had been found in his stomach. I thought of this woman immediately, for in my mind she had become a professional killer of men."

"A few weeks after the Coroner's inquest, a man with whom this woman is acquainted, came to me and said she wanted him to collect the $1000 she had been promised for killing Kaber. He said he refused to have any part in the matter."

Developments Came. "I tried to get something more definite on this case, but it took months to get to the bottom of it. Then developments came fast. I saw that the Kaber murder was almost frantic from fear. For two years they had kept the secret and it couldn't keep it any longer. I was at it harder than ever and found that Kaber's diamond ring and watch had apparently been turned over to the assassins as part of the $1000 payment promised whether the rest was ever paid. I do not know if Mooney declared there probably were three men working with the woman on the murder. The police suspect she hired 'the man with the cap' and possibly two others to do the actual killing, with the knowledge it is believed by Prosecutors Stanton, of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, widow of the slain man, now under arrest with her daughter, Marian McArdle, in New York."

A statement of Mrs. Mary Brick, mother of Mrs. Kaber, who is in the county jail charged with murder.

The story of her operations in the last three years, as alleged by City Detective Mooney, who followed her for 18 months, is as follows:

"The Kaber case is not the first one we have regarded her as being mixed up in. I am convinced it was she who did away with the three husbands of one woman, but I have never been able to fix guilt for the crimes upon her as the prisoner.

Mrs. Brickel was forced to spend yesterday in jail when her son, Charles, found it impossible to secure the $10,000 bail fixed.

The "man with the cap," alleged to have been the actual killer of Kaber, was arrested by Mooney yesterday in Mayfield road. He is a relative of the woman taken as the poisoner in the alleged Kaber plot.

Mrs. Kaber's Self-Inflicted Wound Not Serious.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 9.—Weak from loss of blood after she had jabbed a nail file into her wrist, Mrs. Eva Kaber of Lakewood, O., accused of murder in connection with her husband's death, was carried into court yesterday and remanded to the Tombs Prison to await extradition to Ohio.

A matron at the Harlem Prison found blood flowing from Mrs. Kaber's cell shortly after midnight. Investigation showed she had attempted to end her life. Physicians pronounced her case not serious.

A double guard was put over her. Meanwhile her daughter, Marian McArdle, also indicted in connection with the slaying of her stepfather, Dan F. Kaber, remained in custody here. Gov. Miller has granted requests for extradition of both mother and daughter.

Theft at 3525 North Twenty-fifth Street is Sixty-ninth Victim Since August, 1919.

A Kroger grocery store at 3525 North Twenty-fifth street, which was held up last Monday, was robbed again at 12:30 p. m. today.

A young man entered the store and at the point of a revolver ordered Jesse E. Thomas, the manager, to go into a washroom, which he did.

A second young man entered and took $25 in currency and some silver from the cash register. They ran out and escaped.

On Monday an automobile containing four men stopped in front of the store. Two of the men alighted and, entering with revolvers, compelled Thomas to face the wall while they took $25 from the cash register, escaping.

Today's robbery was the sixty-ninth Kroger robbery here since August, 1919.

Charles Edwards, Chief of Police

Kansas City since last January, spoke at the final business session of the International Association of Chiefs of Police at the Shubert-Jefferson Theater this morning, for his efforts to reform Kansas City police conditions. His talk was not on the program, as only matters of association business were scheduled for consideration.

San Francisco was selected by the Chiefs as their meeting place for next year, and August Vollmer of Berkeley, Cal., was unanimously elected president of the organization. Berkeley is a suburb of San Francisco, and is the seat of the University of California.

Chief Edwards said many inquiries had been made of him as to the statement of R. B. Fossick, Mr. Fossick's book was written, but that these conditions no longer exist. Edwards was appointed by the new Police Board, which Gov. Hyde named a few days before he took office. He was in civilian life at the time, but had formerly had police experience.

Describes His Methods. "I called my men in," Edwards said, "and told them we must make a new book. We must revise our estimate of our police department. I told them that the crime wave, which we were then having, was due to conditions in the Police Department. I put the men on 60 days' trial, and at the end of that time I fired 200 patrolmen, 40 Sergeants, eight Lieutenants and eight Captains.

"I put war service men on the force in large number, and told them they must be ready to give their lives for Kansas City, as they had been ready to do the same for the nation. A night squad of 250 men was formed, 300 of them carrying riot guns, and an automobile patrol was established.

"Since January, the Kansas City Police Department has been modernized, motorized and Christianized. The number of holdups has been reduced from 20 or 25 a night to one or two. We have driven out the fixers and professional bondsmen—the bondsmen have been trying to come back, by working for a law which would permit them to qualify by a $10,000 cash deposit. When an Alderman came into my office, trying to use political influence in a case the police were handling, I ordered him out. We have got rid of politics."

The Executive Committee of the Chiefs' Association was empowered, by a vote taken at this morning's session, to prepare a law governing the interstate shipment of deadly weapons, to be presented to Congress, and new State laws to be submitted to legislatures which meet next year. A motion to employ special legal aid in this matter was voted down after Deputy Commissioner John Daly of New York said he could get a corporation lawyer of the highest ability to perform this service without charge.

In the election of officers, the five vice presidents were moved up each one number. This was not done automatically, but the election to each office was voted upon. Chief Vollmer of Berkeley, who was elected president, had been first vice president. He is known as one of the readiest speakers of the gathering, and he and a St. Louis young woman won first prize in a waltz contest on the Chiefs' steamboat outing yesterday. After his election as president, an order for a $25 Panama hat was presented to him by the women's reception committee.

Vice-Presidents Moved Up. The second, third, fourth and fifth vice presidents of the organization were elected first, second, third and fourth vice presidents. They are Philip T. Smith of New Haven, Conn.; William F. Rutledge of Detroit, J. M. Broughton of Portsmouth, Va., and Albert A. Carroll of Grand Rapids, Mich. Constable S. J. Dickson of Toronto was elected fifth vice president.

George Black of Wilmington, Del., was re-elected secretary, and Lona B. Day of Scranton, Pa., was re-elected sergeant-at-arms. Patrick J. Kiely of Plainville, N. J., was elected treasurer, to succeed Frederick C. Roach of Jacksonville, Fla., who is not now in police duty.

William A. Pinkerton of Chicago presented to Chief O'Brien of St. Louis an enlarged photograph of the National Chiefs' Union, which met here in 1898, and on which the present organization was founded. The group includes Laurence Harrigan, then Chief of Police of St. Louis, and William Desmond, then Chief of Detectives.

After the business session, the chiefs and their wives and daughters were taken to the Anheuser-Busch plant for luncheon, to be followed by a ride about the city.

The convention will end with a banquet at Hotel Jefferson tonight. Martin Collins, who has served as chairman of the local finance committee of the convention, will be toastmaster. Chiefs Quigley and Vollmer and Maj. Richard Sylvester of Wilmington, Del., former Chief of Police of Washington and honorary president of the association, will speak. Local speakers will be Mayor Kiel and President Miller of the Police Board.

Visitors Taken on Boat Trip. The delegates attended last night's performance of "The Chocolate Soldier" in the Municipal Theater. The afternoon was spent in a ride on the steamer S. P. to a point near the mouth of the Missouri River, returning to the Washington avenue landing before 5 o'clock.

CHIEF TELLS HOW KANSAS CITY FORCE WAS 'MODERNIZED'

Charles Edwards, Appointed From Civilian Life, Says Department Was "Motorized and Christianized."

Charles Edwards, Chief of Police

Kansas City since last January, spoke at the final business session of the International Association of Chiefs of Police at the Shubert-Jefferson Theater this morning, for his efforts to reform Kansas City police conditions. His talk was not on the program, as only matters of association business were scheduled for consideration.

San Francisco was selected by the Chiefs as their meeting place for next year, and August Vollmer of Berkeley, Cal., was unanimously elected president of the organization. Berkeley is a suburb of San Francisco, and is the seat of the University of California.

Chief Edwards said many inquiries had been made of him as to the statement of R. B. Fossick, Mr. Fossick's book was written, but that these conditions no longer exist. Edwards was appointed by the new Police Board, which Gov. Hyde named a few days before he took office. He was in civilian life at the time, but had formerly had police experience.

Describes His Methods. "I called my men in," Edwards said, "and told them we must make a new book. We must revise our estimate of our police department. I told them that the crime wave, which we were then having, was due to conditions in the Police Department. I put the men on 60 days' trial, and at the end of that time I fired 200 patrolmen, 40 Sergeants, eight Lieutenants and eight Captains.

"I put war service men on the force in large number, and told them they must be ready to give their lives for Kansas City, as they had been ready to do the same for the nation. A night squad of 250 men was formed, 300 of them carrying riot guns, and an automobile patrol was established.

"Since January, the Kansas City Police Department has been modernized, motorized and Christianized. The number of holdups has been reduced from 20 or 25 a night to one or two. We have driven out the fixers and professional bondsmen—the bondsmen have been trying to come back, by working for a law which would permit them to qualify by a $10,000 cash deposit. When an Alderman came into my office, trying to use political influence in a case the police were handling, I ordered him out. We have got rid of politics."

The Executive Committee of the Chiefs' Association was empowered, by a vote taken at this morning's session, to prepare a law governing the interstate shipment of deadly weapons, to be presented to Congress, and new State laws to be submitted to legislatures which meet next year. A motion to employ special legal aid in this matter was voted down after Deputy Commissioner John Daly of New York said he could get a corporation lawyer of the highest ability to perform this service without charge.

In the election of officers, the five vice presidents were moved up each one number. This was not done automatically, but the election to each office was voted upon. Chief Vollmer of Berkeley, who was elected president, had been first vice president. He is known as one of the readiest speakers of the gathering, and he and a St. Louis young woman won first prize in a waltz contest on the Chiefs' steamboat outing yesterday. After his election as president, an order for a $25 Panama hat was presented to him by the women's reception committee.

Vice-Presidents Moved Up. The second, third, fourth and fifth vice presidents of the organization were elected first, second, third and fourth vice presidents. They are Philip T. Smith of New Haven, Conn.; William F. Rutledge of Detroit, J. M. Broughton of Portsmouth, Va., and Albert A. Carroll of Grand Rapids, Mich. Constable S. J. Dickson of Toronto was elected fifth vice president.

George Black of Wilmington, Del., was re-elected secretary, and Lona B. Day of Scranton, Pa., was re-elected sergeant-at-arms. Patrick J. Kiely of Plainville, N. J., was elected treasurer, to succeed Frederick C. Roach of Jacksonville, Fla., who is not now in police duty.

NEWBERRY'S BROTHER FURNISHED $99,000

Testifies in Ford Contest That He Opened His Bank Account for Unlimited Expenditure.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Senate Inquiry in Henry Ford's contest for the seat of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, growing out of the 1918 election, began yesterday and ran through a brief but stormy session.

John S. Newberry, brother of the Senator, testified that, because of "love, affection and loyalty," he had opened his bank account through an agent for unlimited and unexpended campaign expenditures, concerning the amounts of which he never inquired, and the manner of which he knew nothing "except as I read it in the newspapers." The total drawn was placed at $99,000.

Henry B. Joy, a Detroit capitalist, was called, but an attorney presented a physician's certificate declaring that the absent witness was suffering from a heart ailment which might kill him if he were put on the stand. Alfred Lucking, counsel for Ford, jumped to his feet with an exclamation: "I'll never agree to proceed without his presence."

After three lawyers and five Senators got into the discussion, a tentative agreement was announced by Chairman Spencer, under which two heart specialists will be deputed to examine Joy and determine whether he can be called without endangering his life.

There was a partial agreement to the effect that the Newberry campaign and advertising expenditures were to be classed as "very large," and that the committee should take the record of the criminal case against Senator Newberry, which was invalidated by the Supreme Court last month, as to the facts, with Lucking permitted to prove larger amounts than the $178,000 admitted there, if he could.

Paul H. King, the Newberry campaign manager, was called for a preliminary statement, but was excused temporarily. All of the expenditures, he said, were never accounted for because of delay in the presentation of bills after the election.

Thomas E. Phillips, a Detroit publicity man, told of the taking of motion picture photographs during the campaign of Senator Newberry—then a navy officer—standing on the deck of a wooden imitation of a battleship.

"Thrifty" Monthly, on Newberry Weekly List, Ran 6 Ads in Issue

DETROIT, June 9. IN THE Senate hearing in the Newberry's seat in the Senate yesterday Attorney Lucking, counsel for Ford, produced a copy of a Michigan farm paper, with half a dozen Newberry campaign advertisements in one issue.

"That was one on us," Judge Murfin, counsel for Newberry, explained. "During the campaign a monthly paper got by mistake on the weekly list of the Publicity Committee, and they sent it copy each week. Being thrifty, the publisher used it all."

STREET WORK TO BE DONE AT 18 PER CENT UNDER ESTIMATES

Contracts Let for Improvements on Five Streets and Four Alleys at $96,558.

The Board of Public Service has let contracts for the improvement of sections of five streets and of four alleys for a total of $96,558, which is 18 per cent lower than the estimates, that totaled $117,600. The decrease is chiefly attributed to lower labor costs to municipal contractors following the repeal of the "prevailing wage scale" ordinance early this year.

The street improvements and contract prices are as follows: First street, Cornelia street to Douglas street, $4660; Itasca street, Gravois avenue to Ridgewood avenue, $20,814.55; Sutherland avenue, King's highway to Mackland avenue, $27,743.50; Sigel avenue, Terrace avenue to King's highway, $9217.50; Green avenue, Abner place to Union avenue, $1910.75. Three of the alleys to be improved are in the South Side and the other is in the West End.

Fire in Picture Theater.

Fire starting from defective wiring in the operator's booth of a moving picture house for negroes at 2351 Market street at 4:30 p. m. yesterday caused an exodus of a number of persons. Engine Company No. 10 extinguished the fire. Nine reels of films were destroyed. The loss was estimated at $450.

Saloon Men Give Testimony.

William Mooney, proprietor of the saloon, and William Mullen, his bartender, testified they saw the men fighting. Before that, they said

THREE MEN ARRESTED IN EXTORTION PLOT

Former Deputy Sheriff One of Men Held on Complaint of Two Brothers.

Fred O. Pahl, 34, of 4634 Maffitt avenue, until recently a Deputy Sheriff, John A. Nix, 34, 6218 Lithia avenue, St. Louis County, a sawyer, and George F. Burke, 30, of 6308 Hobart avenue, St. Louis County, a chauffeur, were arrested last night and are held for the Circuit Attorney on the charge of extorting $100 from Nicholas and Andrew Catis, 4217 Aubert avenue, by accusing them of violating the prohibition law. Their arrest followed an attempt to obtain another $100, which was resisted by the Catis brothers and in which shots were exchanged.

The Catis brothers complained to Chief of Detectives Hoagland yesterday. They said that at 8 o'clock Tuesday night two men came to their home and accused them of dealing in moonshine whisky. One, afterward identified as Pahl, said he was an officer and was going to arrest everybody in the house, but it could be squared for $500. Nicholas Catis told him he did not have $500, but he would pay $100 if the men would accompany him to Sixth and Elm streets. They agreed and Nicholas took them in his automobile to a restaurant at that corner in which he has an interest and obtained $100 and handed it to the man he afterward identified as Nix.

Told to Return Wednesday. He told the men he could not raise the other $100 but if they would come to his house at 8 p. m. Wednesday he would have it for them.

Catiss had noticed that another automobile followed his all the way to Sixth and Elm. The two men climbed into it and were driven away.

Chief Hoagland turned them over to acting Lieutenant Walton and his homicide squad. Walton arranged to be at the Catis home with his men at 8 o'clock last night. When they arrived at 7:45 they were told by the Catis brothers that the men came back at 7:15. The brothers refused to open the door and asked what was wanted and were told by the men that they wanted the other $100. "You are not going to get it," they replied, and a shot was fired through the door. The brothers fired back and after the exchange of half a dozen shots the men went away.

Police Say Men Confessed. Walton and his men took the Catis brothers into their machine and at King's highway and Penrose street he pointed out Nix to them. He was arrested and Walton says he confessed, naming the others. Pahl was arrested at 4769 Genevieve avenue and Burke at his own home. Pahl and Burke, Walton says, also confessed. They all said Pahl had received $40 and Nix and Burke $30 each. Pahl had $10 and Burke $21, which they gave up. Nix said he had spent all of his $30.

TWO MURDER INDICTMENTS IN RESTAURANT MAN'S DEATH

Indictments charging first degree murder in connection with the death of Gus Pappapoulos, 40 years old, proprietor of a Greek restaurant at 807 Market street, who was killed April 8, were returned yesterday by the grand jury against Glen McDonald, alias Robert Cavanaugh, and Barrie L. Andrews, who are being held by the police at Greenville, N. C. McDonald was employed by Pappapoulos as a dishwasher. Pappapoulos was found in his restaurant severely beaten over the head and died later at the city hospital. The police reported that two men, who committed the assault, afterward hired a service car and went to East St. Louis, where they drew revolvers and forced the chauffeur to get out of the car. The automobile later was found at Belleville.

FATHER SHOT AT SAME TIME AS SON AFTER SALOON ROW

Jacob Haverman Found in Hospital in Serious Condition—Spent Six Hours in Custody After Affray.

The police learned yesterday that at the time David Haverman, 23 years old, of 2650 Garfield avenue, was shot at 1:30 a. m. Saturday, in front of the saloon of John Kenney, 2504 Easton avenue, that his father, Jacob Haverman, 43, also was shot and now is at St. Anthony's Hospital in a serious condition.

The elder Haverman was arrested at the time and spent six hours in custody before furnishing a bond, without the police learning that he, too, had been wounded.

At the time of the shooting the police found the younger Haverman on the sidewalk in front of the saloon, being attended by his father and another man. He refused to say how he had been shot. However, his father said that Kenney shot him. A revolver with six exploded cartridges was found on the sidewalk. Kenney, arrested, declared that the three men had asked for whisky and that he had ordered them from the saloon. He said that he heard several shots outside, but did not know who fired them.

HYDE ORGANIZING NEW GRAIN INSPECTION FORCE

Employees of Department Threaten to Quit if Bradshaw Is Removed on Inefficiency Charges.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Gov. Hyde is organizing a force of employees to operate the State Grain Inspection Department following the hearing he will give James T. Bradshaw, Warehouse Commissioner, Saturday, on charge of inefficiency, preferred by the Governor.

Indications at the Governor's office today were that there was little question of the decision of the Governor, his secretary announcing that a report had reached the executive offices that if Bradshaw was removed, the employees would quit in a body. To meet such a contingency, the secretary said, the Governor and the Kansas City Board of Trade were getting together on temporary employees to get the work done. Roy H. Monier of Carrollton would be placed in temporary charge of the department, the secretary said.

Bradshaw has filed in the Governor's office a motion for the appointment of a commissioner to take testimony. While the Governor is not here today, it was stated, his office that there was little likelihood that he would consider the application.

Attorneys for Dr. E. L. Barnhouse, State Food and Drug Commissioner, who was removed by the Governor May 17, have prepared for filing this afternoon a mandamus suit against State Auditor Hackmann in an effort to compel him to pay salaries and expenses of Barnhouse and his employees for the entire month of May. Barnhouse contends the Governor had not the legal right to remove him.

BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL ASKS FOR RENT LEGISLATION

Requests Governor to Put Subject Before Special Session After Hearing Address on Matter.

The Building Trades Council last night adopted a resolution asking Gov. Hyde to include rent legislation in his supplemental call for the special session of the Legislature. Adoption of the resolution followed an address on rent relief by Alfred W. Henry, president of the Rent Relief League.

Henry left blank petitions bearing the same request to the Governor with Secretary Cassidy to give the council delegates opportunity to sign. The Building Trades Council has referred to the American Federation of Labor a suggestion for laws to curb unwarranted foreclosures of mortgages on homes of wage earners out of employment.

FUND FOR BLIND GIRLS' HOME

Campaign Under Way for Enlargement of Institution on Page Boulevard.

A campaign for a building and maintenance fund for the Blind Girls' Home, 5233 Page boulevard, is under way. The home cares for 43 blind women, and its size has become inadequate. It is desired to enlarge it considerably. Contributions from the general public are being asked by the board of managers, of which Mrs. A. C. Birmingham is president. The home is open for inspection at all times. There is a waiting list of applicants for care at the home who cannot be accommodated.

The present building was the gift of Mrs. L. L. Culver, and has been in use for 12 years. The organization was started in 1887. Most of the women cared for are without other means of support.

TWO BOYS HURT BY AUTOS

One Is Knocked Down in Front of Home; the Other Is Brought Down by Auto.

Leo Cohen, 8 years old, of 5529 Pershing avenue, suffered cuts and bruises when knocked down by an automobile driven by William J. Mouton, of 722 Aubert avenue, chauffeur for a baking company, as the boy ran across the street in front of his home yesterday. The boy's mother, Mrs. Blanche Cohen, who was standing in the doorway, witnessed the accident.

Charles Guelis, 8, of 3642 Botanical avenue, suffered scalp wounds and cuts and bruises when struck by an automobile driven by Alvin C. Machinier, 3267 Utah street, in front of 2239 South Grand avenue.

The Coal Safeguard

WAITING for the frost to bite and the wind to howl before giving thought to the coal bin is expensive folly. It costs worry and money.

The time to buy coal is when the mines are able to produce in ample quantities, when railroad facilities are ready to haul coal to the city, when dealers are equipped to deliver coal to consumers' homes. That time is now.

Buy your next Winter's coal now as the only dependable safeguard against trouble next Fall.

The Coal Service Bureau of St. Louis urges public co-operation in coal buying because it desires to avoid a repetition of experiences of recent years.

6-HOUR DAY PLANNED TO GIVE MORE MEN WORK

Electricians Negotiate With Employers in Interest of Those Without Employment.

Electricians belonging to Local No. 1, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, expect to institute the six-hour day next Wednesday as a means of obtaining employment for more members of the union, many of whom are not now working. Garry Spencer, business agent for the union, made this announcement at last night's meeting of the Building Trades Council.

Spencer said today that negotiations for the six-hour day were under way with the employers. The union has about 2,200 members, who work on the installation of wiring and electrical equipment as "inside electricians," he said.

An official of the Building Trades Council says the union has about 500 members, about half of whom are out of work. It is understood that the union desires the six-hour day to be continued until about 95 per cent of the members have work. The electricians, like other building workers, are getting $1.25 an hour. They desire the retention of the same hourly rate for the shorter day. They have been working eight hours a day, except Saturdays, when there is a four-hour day, which it is desired to continue. The electricians are chiefly employed by the members of the St. Louis Electrical Contractors' Association, of which William A. Koenenman is president.

Koenenman said that no proposal had been made officially for a six-hour day, but that he had heard of its discussion "on street corners." He declared the union had no more than 500 members, some of them armature winders, maintenance men. "This is just an attempt to get a shorter workday permanently," he said. "We don't propose to grant it, and if they should want to strike, this would be the most opportune time. I employed 45 men a year ago, compared with two men today, and my brother had about 70, compared with four today."

The union has not suggested a strike as an alternative.

PUBLIC HAS RIGHT TO KNOW PROFIT, RETAILERS ARE TOLD

Time to Educate People on Cost of Doing Business, Harvard Educator Says.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 8.—The consuming public has a right to know how much money the retailer makes, Dr. Donald David of Harvard University yesterday told members of the National Retail Dry Goods Association in convention here.

"If a department store purchases a piece of goods for 75 cents and sells it for $1.50, the consumer wants to know the exact net profit," said Dr. David. "The time has come when the retail stores of this country will have to educate the public on what it costs them to do business," he added.

IS CUT FOR DROPPING WHISKY

Michael Hayes, 42 years old, who said he arrived in St. Louis yesterday from Detroit to visit his brother, was found by the police at 4 p. m., suffering from cuts about his face and neck.

He said that a man, whom he encountered on North Broadway, asked him if he wanted a drink and led him to a room at 1320 North Broadway, where a quart of whisky was produced. He said that after a few drinks they departed from the room. He was carrying the bottle, he said, and dropped it. It broke. This enraged his companion, he said, and the man ran into a nearby saloon, emerging with a butcher knife with which he began to cut him. The police arrested John Kilcullin of 2320 North Market street man who cut him. Kilcullin refused and Hayes identified him as the "make a statement."

U. R. CARMEN CALL WAGE CONFERENCE

Committee Negotiating With Receiver Expects by Saturday to Have Definite Proposal.

No terms for the new wage contracts between the United Railway and its employees have been agreed upon between the two, though conferences have been in progress since the expiration of the carmen's contract on May 31.

A meeting of the night and afternoon carmen has been called for 9 a. m. Saturday in the Odeon and a meeting for the day carmen for 8 p. m. Saturday in the Odeon. The committee having charge of negotiations with the receiver expects by that time to have obtained the best proposal possible.

It is understood that the men are demanding a continuance of their present rate of pay, which is 55 cents for the first year, 60 cents for the second year and 65 for the third and succeeding years. The company is understood to have proposed a scale of 50 cents for the first year, 55 for the second, 60 for the third and 65 for the fourth and succeeding years.

The receiver desires to abolish time and one-half for overtime, while the men are asking that this provision be continued.

The receiver also is proposing that the wages of track men, repair men and various other classes of workers be reduced from 5 to 9 1/2 cents an hour.

A. T. Perkins, manager for the receiver, said today that he thought there were no vital points of difference between the receiver and the men and that an adjustment soon would be reached.

BURGERS FORCE TWO SAFES, GET NOTHING FROM EITHER

Intruders Also Overlook $1.50 Which Was Between Leaves of a Ledger.

Burglars last night opened two safes in the office of the Orange Shille Syrup Co., 515 Spruce street, but got nothing from either. The first contained papers, books and postage stamps, which they scattered about the floor. The second, a larger safe, contained only books. The cashier had secreted $1.50 between the leaves of a ledger the night before. The burglars did not even find that.

The outer door of the first safe was not locked, but the burglars were compelled to force the inner door. They ransacked two desks, apparently finding the combination of the larger safe, for they worked the combination and forced the inner door. They entered the office by breaking into a paint shop next door and forcing a door connecting the two places.

NO FURTHER FUNDS NEEDED FOR FAMINE RELIEF IN CHINA

Chairman Announces Rains Have Assured Crops in Stricken Sections.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the American Committee for China famine fund, last night telegraphed all local committees in this country to cease taking subscriptions, as sufficient funds had been raised to meet the most pressing needs.

A cablegram from Peking said that abundant rains in the famine-stricken areas had insured harvests where none had been thought possible, and that the Chinese themselves had made generous contributions in excess of the fund.

cess of estimates, according to Lamont.

Subscriptions made through the fund to date total $4,374,206. This sum, with contributions through various other agencies, makes a national total exceeding $6,874,000.

"CHOCOLATE SOLDIER" VANQUISHES ELEMENTS

On Second Trial, Despite Storm Clouds, Municipal Opera Goes On to the End.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

ABOUT 3000 indomitable spirits, equipped with umbrellas and raincoats, ventured out to the Municipal Theater in Forest Park last night, most of them, no doubt, in the firm persuasion that they would be routed by showers before the evening was ended.

Weather-wise eyes, grown skilled during former seasons of open-air opera, were cocked at sullen clouds that scowled from the sky; but after a bit a single glowing star, high in the zenith, burst through the murk. It was a true harbinger of weal, for the storm rack soon dispersed, and the performance, interrupted by a downpour Tuesday night at the end of the second act, was suffered to proceed to its finish.

Thus it was possible to obtain a complete view of what the Municipal Theater Association has accomplished with "The Chocolate Soldier," the initial opus of its third season. Here is one of the most mellifluous and diverting of comic operas, with a serious underlying purpose, if one cares to perceive it; the work is competently and often beautifully sung. It is acted and declaimed to admiration throughout, and it is mounted with a lavishness and magnificence such as, in all probability, it has never before enjoyed.

How Third Act Goes.
The third act, receiving its first presentation of the week, proved to have the same stage setting as the second, and brought forward J. Humbird Duffey and Miss Rhoda Nickel as the charming duet, "Palling in Love," as well as James Stevens and Miss Katherine Galloway in the famous letter song, one of the most delicious scenes of a lovers' quarrel in light opera. Besides, there were Frank Moulan and Stevens in the rich episode of Lieut. Bumeril's proposal for the hand of the heroine, Nadina Popoff. "My daughter," boasts Moulan, in the role of a stern parent, "has been brought up in the lap of luxury. There is no richer family in Bulgaria. We have four horses, two carriages, several pigs and a considerable number of chickens."

"I," replies the Swiss soldier of fortune, "I have six palatial establishments, each with 200 rooms; 400 horses, 200 carriages, 4000 tablecloths, 8000 napkins, 10,000 sheets and 20,000 pillow cases."

At these staggering tidings, Moulan-Popoff reels to his feet, and, in a voice quivering with awe, demands: "Are you the Emperor of the Swiss?"
"No," answers Bumeril; "I am the son and heir of the foremost hotel proprietor in Switzerland."

This scene, like many another of the best incidents in the work, is taken from George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Arms and the Man," on which "The Chocolate Soldier" is a musical parody. In fact, whenever there is a particularly keen bit of fun, one may be sure that G. B.'s satiric vision is glancing from the leaves of the score.

Characters From Shaw.
His, for instance, is the breakfast scene in the second act, which, as acted by Duffey, Miss Galloway, Miss Nickells and Miss Rogers, with Moulan to give gusto and impetus to the merriment, is as sharply articulated a piece of comedy as one could wish to see. Shaw wrote his play to strip the glamour from war, and his satire reappears in the comic opera in the broader strokes of burlesque.

Of Shaw's creation is that egregious pouter-pigeon and booby, Maj. Alexius Sparidoff, with his eternal "I never" and "I never" cant. He is put forward as Shaw's idea of the military hero type. Likewise born of the Irish playwright's wit is his foil, Lieut. Bumeril, who, as a professional soldier, has not the least sentimentality about war. He admits being frightened when the shots fly; he has no nonsense about the glory of a soldier's death; and, like a practiced campaigner, he is more concerned as to whether his pouch is stuffed with chocolate drops than with cartridges—whence the name of the comic opera. And, withal, Bumeril is a far cleverer and more efficient officer than Sparidoff.

In the role of the matter-of-fact and unromantic Bumeril, James Stevens is by way of proving himself a genuine acquisition to the troupe. Somewhere he has picked up an admirable vocal method; his baritone voice is so uniformly musical and sonorous throughout its scale, from top to bottom, that one wonders who was his teacher. He speaks lines with the best of them, and is an actor of no mean address.

If the present company of principals has one outstanding feature, it is ability to delineate comedy. "The Chocolate Soldier" is stuffed with humor, in parts both spoken and sung. The singers and actors never let a single opportunity slip, be it so delicate a point even as the modulation of a word. This is a production which all St. Louis should see; it deserves crowded benches during the four remaining nights of its run.

Perkins Heads New England Society.
Albert T. Perkins was elected president of the New England Society of St. Louis at a smoker Tuesday night at the Washington Hotel. Other officers elected are: A. L. Shapleigh, Edward Simmons Lewis and Frank W. Hamilton, vice president; J. P. Crowley, secretary, and George T. Parker, treasurer. George C. Hitchcock and C. J. Egan were elected to serve on the Executive Committee until 1924.

What Is the "Value" of a Plugged Nickel?

THE man or woman who can answer that question is qualified to write the advertisement that reads something like this:

"$2.50 Silk Hose, Slightly Imperfect, $1.50"

It is our belief that such an advertisement is misleading. At first glance, the reader imagines that she is saving $1.00 on a pair of Hose, when, in truth, she is perhaps not saving anything because she is getting imperfect merchandise.

$2.50 silk Hose that are imperfect may not be worth even $1.50. They may be expensive at any price, depending upon the extent of the imperfection. It is clearly evident that when an article becomes imperfect, its value depreciates.

This is but one example of the many evils arising from the quoting of comparative prices. "Actual values" are merely assumed. Conditions that alter those values are ignored, and even though merchandise is defective and consequently has depreciated in value, the comparative price is placed at the highest point that the perfect article would seem to justify.

This point of view is presented for the purpose of clarifying the advertising situation in the public mind. We are confident that when the people begin to understand this subject and demand absolute truth in advertising, there will be a decided effort on the part of all advertisers to publish plain statements of facts.

CHARGE WOMAN LABOR IS BEING EXPLOITED

Metal Trades Division of A. F. L. Considers Declaration on Alleged Reduction of Standards.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., June 9.—Demand that steps be taken to halt the alleged exploitation of female labor by unscrupulous employers was made today in a declaration presented for consideration before the annual convention here of the metal trades division of the American Federation of Labor.

The declaration asserted that there is no objection to the employment of female labor, but it must be insisted on that the women workers shall receive the same consideration and as good conditions as enjoyed by male labor.

"Female labor during the war period," it was stated, "received a primitive knowledge of how to perform certain lines of work, and operate certain classes of machinery. The employers are now taking advantage of this limited training by reducing the standard as to wages and conditions of employment, first, because of the total lack of organization among women, and second, because of the great unemployment existing throughout the country, which makes female labor an exceptionally easy prey for the unfair and unscrupulous employer."

POLICEMEN OFFER BLOOD TO SAVE COMRADE

Transfusion Operation Necessary for Patrolman John H. Bohlen, Wounded in Abdomen With Shotgun.

Eleven policemen today volunteered to give their blood for a transfusion operation at the city hospital in an effort to save the life of Patrolman John H. Bohlen, 45 years old, of the North Market Street District, who was wounded in the abdomen with a shotgun at 10:45 o'clock last night by Richard P. Muller, 40 years old, a wall paper cleaner, at Muller's boarding place, the home of Mrs. Catharine Kraemer, 1431 Buchanan street.

After Bohlen had been shot Muller was shot in the right side of the chest by Police Sergeant Moynihan. He also is in a serious condition at the city hospital.

Bohlen was shot from inside the house after he had been called there by Mrs. Kraemer and after he had knocked on the kitchen door. The charge of shot entered his abdomen, causing 13 internal perforations. Assailant Says He Was Drunk.

Muller at the hospital today said he was drunk when he opened fire on the policeman and said he could remember no details. "Somebody knocked on the door and I shot him," he said. "I don't know why I did it." Muller said he had been boarding at the Kraemer home about two years and Mrs. Kraemer, who obtained a divorce from Ferdinand Kraemer two weeks ago, had promised to marry him. Since the divorce, he said, he had been trying to induce Mrs. Kraemer to marry him, but she refused. Yesterday, he said, he returned home in Mrs. Kraemer's absence and took several drinks of whiskey there while waiting for her.

On Mrs. Kraemer's return, he said, he renewed his proposal that she marry him and they quarreled. He could remember no further details. He said, except that someone knocked on the door and he fired his shotgun. Woman Says He Fired at Her.

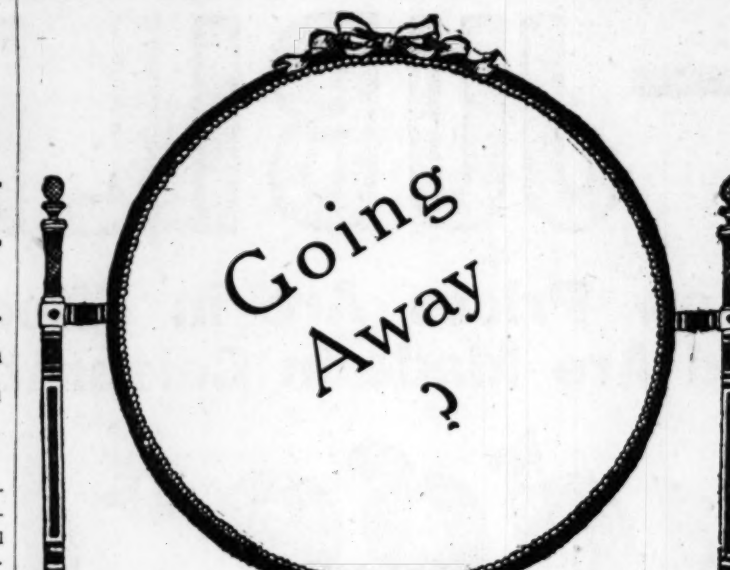

Mrs. Kraemer and her son, Albert, 15 years old, called Patrolman Bohlen to the house last night. Mrs. Kraemer told the policeman Muller had insisted that she marry him and had fired at her with a shotgun. She said he was in the kitchen, where a light was burning.

Bohlen went to the rear kitchen door and opened the screen and knocked on the door. At the hospital later he said a voice within asked who was there and he replied that he was a police officer. There was a shot inside and Bohlen fell. As he lay on the back porch, wounded, he drew his revolver and fired five shots through the lower part of the door.

Bohlen was carried to the home of Harry Hellman at 1431A Buchanan street, above the Kraemer home, and someone telephoned to the North Market street police station that a policeman had been shot.

Muller Shot by Sergeant. Sergt. Moynihan and several patrolmen in a police wagon went to the Kraemer home. There was still a light in the kitchen and the remainder of the house was dark. Moynihan broke a rear window and called out, commanding whoever was in the house to surrender. Immediately after this command Muller, carrying a shotgun, stepped from one of the darkened rooms into the kitchen. Sergt. Moynihan reported that he shot Muller with a revolver as Muller was about to raise the shotgun to his shoulder.

Mrs. Kraemer told policemen that Muller proposed marriage to her last Saturday and when she refused he threatened to kill her and himself. This so alarmed her that she hid his shotgun and revolver behind a wardrobe. She said that last night he again threatened to kill her and himself, and she and her son fled from the house and he shot at her from a window as she was going through a side doorway.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no night so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies: to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO PROPOSED GARAGE ON LACLEDE AVENUE

Attorney Warns Agents of Restrictions on Site Between Sarah and Boyle.

A number of residents of the city block between West Pine boulevard and Laclede avenue and between Sarah street and Boyle avenue have joined in protesting, through an attorney, against the erection of an automobile dealer's office and garage on the Laclede avenue side of the block about midway between the cross streets. Their attorney, John C. Tobin, has written O. E. & R. G. Scott, agents for the owners of the lot in question, telling them that his clients have been informed the erection of the garage is contemplated and citing restrictions on the property which would forbid this. Tobin wrote in the name of William T. Mathews of 4228 West Pine boulevard, a real estate dealer, and other residents. He gave the agents until today to reply that a violation of the restrictions will not be permitted, with the alternative that he will apply for an injunction if the plan is not dropped. Tobin was informed that the Davis Motor Car Co. is the company planning the garage. The residents fear that the company intends to make use of a lot behind its proposed garage, facing West Pine boulevard, for storage and repair purposes. Lucile Barnes and Anna Wilson are the owners of the Laclede avenue lot. There are certain store buildings in use on the Sarah street side of the block, but it is understood that the builders obtained consent of nearby property owners before these were erected.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Fiddlers.

The discussion of members of the Presbyterian General Assembly that opposed an endorsement of the Boy Scout movement is typical of early-day narrow-mindedness. Religious bigotry is the millstone about the neck of our new civilization. We have, up to the present, conceded the religious denominations of the dominant religion the leadership in our national ethic. Is not the time ripe for a new leadership?

The very general low standards in business and social ethics is of the greatest menace, yet these leaders of the dominant faith, running true to form, fiddle over nonessentials while Rome turns. The breaking of camps and the Sunday picnics in which the Scout, after his week or so of strenuous training, joins his home folk, on the river's bank, in the cool shade, where the green grass thickly carpets the earth, and the family picnic fashion, is enjoyed by the reunited family, for a few moments of health-giving rest and recreation, before the coming daily grind of tomorrow, is gravely wrong from the viewpoint of the leaders of the dominant religion.

The Apollitic law lays down the broad and basic principle of intent governing an act or the motive which fathers it. In the rational human if the intent is good the act is good and evil is non-existent. Big hearted and broad intelligence supported by science sees no evil in the conduct of this Boy Scout and his home folk. On the contrary, it is the very foundation of our national ethic, which misguided religious leadership, working hand in hand with evil, seemingly wishes to destroy. Yes, the time is ripe for new leadership.

The Flower Show.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The Garden Club of St. Louis appreciates the cordial co-operation which your paper gave us in connection with the Second Annual Flower Show held at the Missouri Botanical Garden, May 21 and 22. The club sincerely believes that the annual Flower Show is an important factor in an educational way and in civic betterment, since it undoubtedly creates wider local interest in the growing of flowers, shrubs and trees and in the improvement of home grounds, thus offering encouragement to civic developments of this type, all of which add to the pleasure and welfare of the community.
B. M. DUGGAR, President.

In Forest Park.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Our beautiful, spacious Forest Park is the favorite gathering place of most of our citizens and the vicinity of the stately shelter house with the lovely flower beds, lagoons and magnificent view beyond, is probably the most frequented. While the great majority refrain from abusing privileges and observe rules, there are some who are unprincipled enough to steal flowers, injure bushes and walk on the grass plots. In this connection I cannot help praising the man which in the afternoon and evening watch at the shelter house—an old sailor. He certainly exerts himself constantly to curb the offenders—not always an easy task. The man in charge of the State penitentiary and children's section is also worthy of praise and the general appearance of the house and grounds indicates that all the employees are on the job.

TAXPAYER.

How to Build Roads.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I would like to ask: Why do the men lawmakers do almost everything in a slipshod, patchwork and costly manner? Why don't they pass laws with severe penalties requiring the State to manufacture all road material and the abled-bodied convicts of the State penitentiary to build the roads and keep them in repair? We could easily build the best hard-surfaced roads and keep them in repair and pay off the $60,000,000 bond issue if the State manufactured all road material and required the convicts to build and keep them in repair. Why isn't this sensible and simple arrangement made?

EFFICIENCY.

Tennis at O'Fallon.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
We have been reading in the evening and morning newspapers about city officials wishing to pass a so-called "law," which would compel every man who wishes to play tennis or golf or other sports in St. Louis parks, to pay a fee of $1 for tennis and $10 for golf and a few other fees for golf.

The people in North St. Louis who play tennis at O'Fallon Park are willing to pay their amount of fees, but on condition that improvements are made. In O'Fallon Park we have two men to take care of 11 courts, at the Fairgrounds they have three men and nine courts. At O'Fallon we have men that have been named for the last four or five seasons and are not fit for use. O'Fallon Park has more people playing on its courts than any other park in the City of St. Louis. O'Fallon Park needs about four more courts and at least another man and some nets.

We are all in favor of paying the fees, but we think these long-nosed improvement men should be made.

THE O'FALLON PARK TENNIS PLAYERS.

DISARMAMENT'S ENEMIES.

There is suspicion in Washington among the friends of the Borah disarmament resolution that powerful business interests are obstructing the movement. The "steel interests" are named, but no evidence of their opposition has developed, so far as known, except an alleged letter said to have been written by a steel man urging defeat of the resolution.

Such flimsy proof cannot seriously be offered or accepted. Yet the absence of tangible evidence does not of itself absolve the steel interests. If for selfish considerations the steel interests are fighting this movement, it is patent they would not fight it openly. Their opposition would be most circumspect, not to say secretive. The partridge of Government favor are not hunted with brass bands.

There is evidence in plenty, however, of opposition to disarmament at Washington, though such evidence is inferential. The experience of the Borah resolution in the Senate, for example, where it was held up until its author and supporters agreed to the increase over the navy appropriation by the House, whereupon the resolution was attached to the amended appropriation bill and happily passed. But since then the House has adopted a new attitude toward the resolution—an attitude that promises to draw all its teeth under the pretense of broadening and strengthening it.

Quite apart from the dark forces, real or imaginary, that are opposed to disarmament, the official influence arrayed against it is sufficiently powerful, probably, to encompass its defeat. Both President Harding and Secretary of the Navy Denby are recognized as "big navy" men, who believe that the best way to accomplish disarmament is to build an American navy so big that we can browbeat other nations into whatever disarmament program we may later propose. The folly of such a policy is too obvious to require elucidation, but even if it were sound theoretically it is impracticable.

It is impracticable because of the cost. The people of the United States cannot afford to spend a half-billion dollars on naval construction this year, or for many a year to come. Such expenditure could be justified only by the menace of a hostile nation. No such menace exists. Our nation, like other nations, is terribly in debt. We must commence to reduce that debt, by payments within our means. Relief from taxation is imperative. It is not only the man in the street that must have relief. Business must have relief. Taxation has already bled American business white. If American industry is to regain its health taxes must be reduced. There is no other road to recovery. The only way to reduce taxes is to reduce appropriations.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ICE.

Complaints of short weight in ice have been received from consumers and published in the People's Column. Demand is made upon the city authorities that they guard the people's interest by bringing the ice companies to book.

The demand upon the city authorities is a just one, but they cannot act effectively without the co-operation of the aggrieved customer. The Commissioner of Weights and Measures assures the Post-Dispatch that, so far as his force of inspectors is able to handle the volume of cases, they will respond to calls from ice subscribers either to be on hand and weigh the ice when it is delivered or as soon after as possible. Companies convicted of short weight are subject to fine of $5 to $100. Already this season several convictions have been secured and light fines imposed.

The fines, of course, are fixed by the Court. Unless these are made appreciably heavy it may be more profitable for the ice companies to pay their fines and go on giving short weight. That consumers may not be put to the nuisance of haggling over every piece of ice, it should be made dangerous for companies to give short weight. A few pounds of ice are not in themselves important, but they may amount to just the difference that will make a piece last two days instead of one. In a season this would amount to a great deal, and the companies, doubtless, are not the last to realize it.

The office of the Commissioner of Weights and Measures is in the Municipal Courts Building, Main 5580.

THE LETTER OF THE LAW.

A month ago three men, indicted for murder in the sister commonwealth of Illinois, who had been out on bond pending appeal to the State Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court, were surrendered on their bonds following a ruling of the highest court in the land that Illinois was entitled to them. They were released in the United States District Court on a technicality under a decision which, through a clerk's error, was made more sweeping than intended. Although pains was taken by the Court to correct the record and confine it to the technicality, and although it was announced by an associate of the lawyer to whose zeal the men owe their freedom that they would be produced by the lawyer whenever wanted, and although new warrants, curing the defects in the old, have been issued, the men are still at large.

Three men charged with a murder wanton in character are underserved at liberty by virtue of a technicality and a clerk's error. Without assuming their guilt, society has a right to require that their guilt or innocence be established by the usual processes. The greater the emphasis placed upon their respectability and the greater the presumption of innocence claimed in their behalf, the greater the obligation to submit this presumption to the test of trial.

Among men who have more esteem for the spirit that keepeth alive than for the letter that killeth, it is the custom to forego an advantage which arises from inadvertence, even though technically entitled to possess and retain it. Technicality is the breath of a lawyer's nostrils, but even among lawyers there are some who hold so dear their professional as well as their personal honor that they disdain an unearned benefit or an unintentionally conferred advantage.

Lawyers are officers of the court, charged with upholding its dignity and guarding its honor.

HANGED FOR HERESY.

The League of Nations may boast another martyr and the victors of last November's election a fresh killing. Dr. W. S. Dearmont, late president of Cape Girardeau Teachers' College, entertained dangerous views. He was for the League of Nations and became "perniciously active" in its support. He even permitted friendly things to be said of it in the classroom. In other words, he allowed his enthusiasm for world peace and international organization to blind his eyes to the expediency of maintaining peace and concord with all political elements upon whom he might become dependent for his job.

Possibly Dr. Dearmont's idealism had led him to expect that citizens in enlightened America would not be punished for their convictions. He might even have gone so far astray as to assume that if a censorship of views were thinkable, an exception would be made of so sublime an issue as the League of Nations. But either the worthy educator was so devoted to his opinion as to be reckless of the consequences or else 22 years' experience as an employee of the State had not been sufficient to acquaint him with the fractiousness of Missouri politics.

Anyhow, the argument has been closed. The official head has been severed at the neck, and the League of Nations apostasy has been extracted, root and branch, from the Cape Girardeau institution.

It may be pertinent, however, to observe that if all the colleges and universities of the country were in the hands of Missouri Republican politicians, practically all would be shy of the present incumbents of the presidential office, for we have heard of no college president whose independent reasoning has not brought him to the support of the League. The heads of our greatest universities have been conspicuous in its espousal.

Returning to the Missouri situation, what is to become of our State educational institutions if their academic freedom is to be invaded by politics and if our professors are to obey the orders of cross-roads politicians on what to think and how?

Admiral Sims apparently has set out to prove that Col. Harvey is not our original or most proficient bean-spiller, and Sims is the boy that can do it.

THE SUBORDINATE'S RESPONSIBILITY.

The German submarine commander who torpedoed the hospital ship Dover Castle has been acquitted of responsibility by the German court trying cases of war criminality. The issue of who is guilty, if anybody, was not covered in the trial. Only the fact was established that Lieut. Karl Neumann, the accused, had explicit orders to do what he did.

If the Entente public expected anything further it should be invited to analyze just what are the alternatives of a military subordinate under orders. Let us assume that Neumann was fully aware of the depravity of the act which he was ordered to perform. To refuse to carry out orders would have been mutiny, which, in a military system, is punishable by death.

Common law always admits of the plea of self defense. But even if this right were waived by the officer and he were resigned to sacrificing his own life rather than that of so many others, Neumann must have known that with his personal elimination from the situation the torpedoes would have been executed just the same, under the command of others.

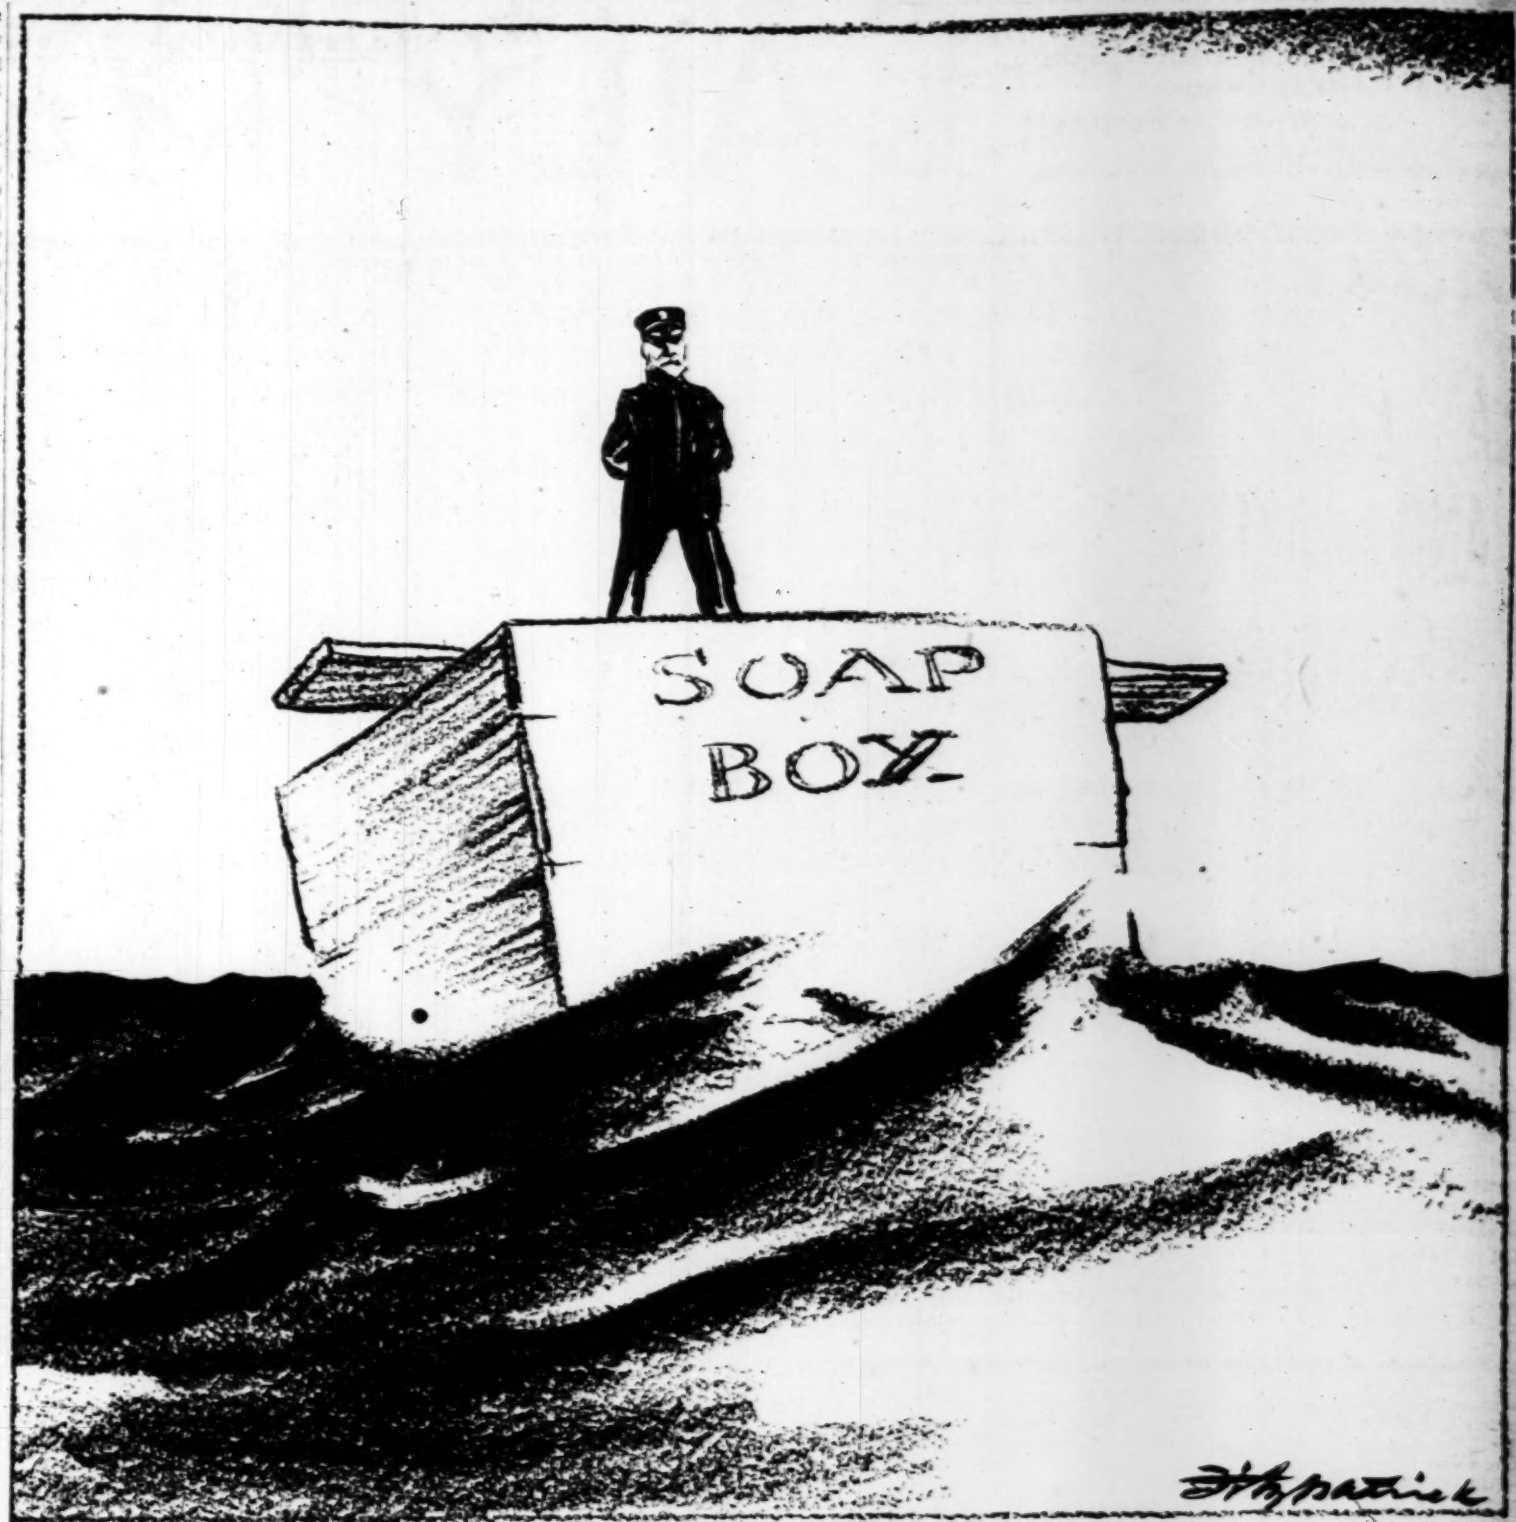

Are we justified in assuming, however, that the U-boat commander did realize the atrociousness of his act? What is a military subordinate supposed to know about the wisdom or unwisdom, virtue or criminality, of the acts he is commanded to perform? It is his duty only to obey. The high crime of the military code is disobedience. It is only in the enforcement of this axiom that armies and navies are enabled to exist.

If the soldier in the ranks, who covers his man and pulls the trigger when he is ordered to fire, is guilty of a crime, then the submarine commander may be held responsible for the orders given him from above. Otherwise not, for the two cases, in principle, are the same. As the German court ruled, a subordinate is covered in the laws of all civilized nations by the orders of his superiors. Those political and naval superiors who decided policies and gave orders in the full knowledge of what was entailed represent the responsibility for all Germany's crimes on the sea committed under orders. It is only where a subordinate was permitted to exercise his own discretion that he can be held to either legal or moral accountability.

SIMS' FLAGSHIP.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
by Clark McAdams

FREE BRIDGE VERSE.

THE other day I rode over the Free Bridge.

Why had no one ever told us about it?

It is like a trip in a balloon!

We went up and up.

Then we looked off.

Gads, what a sight!

There was the river, which Secretary Weeks says must prove itself within six months, or something of that sort—as if the river had any sense of time.

Behind us was St. Louis—that great big spawling place we have been kicking in the ribs so hard the last few years trying to wake.

Across the river were hills and fields, foreign countries, approaches winding around over the landscape like sea serpents feeding upon the following wheat, the stacks and steeples of East St. Louis, and God knows what problems of the years to come.

"Stop here!" I cried.

I had never seen that picture before, and I wanted it to soak into me a bit.

That river—those hills—the feeding plesio-saur, etc.

But strangely enough, there was no stopping.

You know the Free Bridge is a failure.

Nobody uses it.

Nobody except thousands of people in machines of all sorts going both ways like a string of beads.

If you go downtown and listen to one of the old-timers who thought St. Louis was to be sold on the block to the highest bidder, you would imagine we had sunk every dollar we ever put into the Free Bridge because the railroads won't use it.

You would not feel that way about it if you had been with me the other day.

We tried to stop, but more Fords and other kinds of automobiles and trucks kept pushing us on.

"This bridge should have been wider," said the gentleman driving me.

"The traffic is wider than the bridge."

"There is a car in trouble now."

Sure enough, there was a Ford trying to butt down a part of the bridge.

It did not seem to be having much luck at it.

It was putting up dense smoke behind, and glass was breaking ahead—but the bridge seemed to be holding its own.

"Siddid, I guess," said the man driving me, who frequently crosses the Free Bridge and can explain phenomena peculiar to it.

Anyway, we ran out on one of the winding approaches, which I had pictured as feeding sea serpents.

There was another one on the right which writhe out over the country and finally lost itself in the haze of remoteness.

I wondered if that were probably the approach that Frank Gerhart used to raise such a hullabaloo about.

The man driving me did not know.

It was the railroad approach, which is not yet finished.

I said I hoped it never would be finished before we could turn both levels of the bridge over to Fords and show the railroads where they get off.

That sort of tickled the man driving me, and he said he wanted to show me something.

He said we would get to it in just a minute, which we did.

It was the place where the bridge debouches upon East St. Louis.

There is a little narrow turn in there very much like one of the crooks in a dog's hind leg.

There are two little buildings right smack in the way.

Yes, honk your horn, port your helm and hope for the best.

We got around, with no thanks to East St.

Louis.

So it is an adventure of all sorts to cross the Free Bridge.

You wonder, too, why the people on the East

Side make us pay taxes on that end of it?

You would think that, using it as they do, they would be glad to let one end rest on their side for nothing.

Not so, it seems.

Queer lot, aren't we?

I'll say we are.

But make that trip some time.

The Free Bridge is a failure.

It isn't big enough!

Recent Russian Literature.

"If there still remain ingenious people who imagine that the terrible conditions in Russia have been exaggerated," writes C. E. Beethofer in The Literary Review, "the state of contemporary Russian letters ought to correct their optimistic impressions. Russia has relapsed, as a literary center, into something like a small Balkan country. It is true that there have been able to reconcile themselves to some extent with the present regime; secondly, a greater number who devote themselves to the tedious labor of translating foreign literature for the official Bolshevik press as a means of livelihood; and thirdly, a few energetic emigrants or rather exiles, who are continuing their work in the unpleasant and uninspiring circumstances of sojourn in foreign lands. Few of these writers have written as much in the last three or four years as they ordinarily produced in the same number of weeks; the quality of their work is almost without exception inferior to what they previously did. Many important Russian writers are either dead, dying, absorbed in the struggle for existence, or simply too disheartened to be able to write. The spectacle of Russian literature today is pathetic beyond description."

If the Republicans are really going to have fewer delegates from the South at their national convention, they are going to take the comedy out of the best show we have. In the celebrated contest at Chicago between Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft a good many of the colored delegates brought from the South in support of Mr. Taft had to be looked up to keep the Roosevelt people from giving them more money. The reform is possibly in the interest of candidates, whose ability to buy three while we are paying our war debts is probably questioned by the committee. We question it ourselves. Still, most of the comedy of the last race for the Republican nomination for the presidency derived from the fact that a certain colored gentleman in Georgia had apparently made no adequate provision for an appropriation of $9000 from the Lowden campaign fund. Nothing came of the investigation except the nomination of Mr. Harding, but the gravity of nations was immensely increased. We hope the Republicans will consider the matter from every viewpoint before they decide to hold the South down to a small representation. Their convention is a great national institution, and a good deal can be tolerated in preference to turning it over to killjoys and glooms.

One of our sign hunters sends us a picture postal from the Bermudas to show us how the apostrophe is doing in that celebrated refuge from prohibition. The picture carries a title:

Bills Prepared for Complete Connected Hard Roads System

PLAN BARS DIRT ROADS AND TAKES WISCONSIN SYSTEM AS A MODEL

Legislation to Be Introduced by Senator Ralph Provides for Organization of State Highway Department, Laying Out of 6000 Miles of Highway and Issuance of $60,000,000 Bonds—Would Give Commission Full Power.

Senator Richard F. Ralph of St. Louis County, chairman of the Senate Committee on Roads and Highways, has prepared for introduction at the special road session of the Legislature, which convenes in Jefferson City Tuesday, bills providing a complete plan for the building of a State system of connected hard-surface roads under the $60,000,000 bond issue voted last November.

The plan proposed by Senator Ralph, who because of his position at the head of the Roads Committee, will have decided influence in such legislation, is distinctly a hard-surface scheme, and specifically bars dirt road from participation in the bond issue expenditures.

In the main it is the Wisconsin plan, which Ralph and other members of the Legislature studied in detail six weeks ago on a tour of other states investigating road conditions though in one important particular it differs materially.

The Wisconsin and Eastern state road systems, which were studied by the Ralph committee, were fully reported in the Post-Dispatch by a member of the Post-Dispatch staff, who accompanied the committee.

Under the bills as drawn by Ralph there is nothing to keep politics out of the State Highway Department, and from the fact that terms of the Highway Commissioners are made to expire at the same time, with each incoming administration, it is possible that the State administration there would be possible a complete reorganization of the department, and a complete upsetting of the plan on which it was operating.

Some of the bills provided for the bill to be considered a change of this to provide that the term of not more than one commissioner should expire within any one State administration.

The bill proposed by Ralph provides for the organization of a Highway Department, for the laying out by the commission of 6000 miles of State highway, for the designation of the commission of the routes to be followed, and authorize the issuance by the State Fund Commission of the $60,000,000 of bonds, not more than $5,000,000 to be issued in any one year, except in 1922, when the issue is to be $10,000,000.

The bills are subject to change before introduction, Ralph said today, and probably will be changed. In some particulars as it is his intention to submit them to the Roads Committee of the Senate before introducing them.

There will be many other bills introduced, some by the Missouri Good Roads Federation, a hard-surfaced road organization which made the fight for the bond issue. They will differ from the Ralph plan only in details of operation. There also will be some by the Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs, which is opposing the $60,000,000 connected system of hard roads and is seeking to have the money distributed to satisfy local desires in all the counties of the State.

Bill for Maintenance Fund. Ralph will have another bill providing for a maintenance fund to be expended by the commission in maintaining dirt and other roads on the State system until such time as they can be rebuilt as hard-surfaced roads, and for maintaining the hard-surfaced roads of the system. This bill has not been drawn, and will not be until Ralph receives replies from inquiries sent to a number of states to determine the best method of raising funds for maintenance.

The bills give evidence of considerable thought to meet the principal objections raised by the advocates of distribution of the funds to the counties for expenditure on local roads, providing that at least $200,000 shall be spent in each county, but also stipulating that the money shall be spent under the sole direction of the Highway Commission.

An expenditure of $200,000 per county would consume $2,000,000 of the $60,000,000 bond issue, and would leave $58,000,000 to be expended on higher type of road in the more thickly populated areas.

Would Tackle Old Plans. The Ralph bills apparently propose to utilize to a great extent the State system laid out by the present Highway Commission under the law providing for the construction of north and south and east and west roads through each county. This in effect was a State highway system, though in all cases it did not mean a connected system. The proposed

Principal Features of the Hard Roads Legislation Proposed by Senator Ralph

THE bills of Senator Ralph providing plans for the building of a hard-surface road system include the following principal features:

All laws concerning the present bi-partisan State Highway Commission of four members are repealed, and there is created a commission of three members, to be appointed by the Governor, for four-year terms, and to be paid $10 a day each for time actually employed. There is nothing to require that one member shall be of different political faith than the other two.

A "hard-surfaced road" is defined to be "a road surfaced with gravel, macadam or other suitable materials approved by the commission; and no road shall not be considered a hard-surfaced road."

All road projects approved by the present commission shall be completed as planned.

The chief engineer, who must have had five years' practical experience in the construction and maintenance of hard-surfaced roads, shall be appointed by the commission. He shall appoint other employees with approval of the commission.

No salaries, except for members of the commission, are fixed, the commission being given power to fix all salaries.

Members of the commission and all employees are prohibited from having "pecuniary interests in the sale of road or bridge building material, tools, machinery or supplies, and in any contract for the construction of roads or bridges."

Bonds are required to be given by all employees who will have in their charge public funds or property.

The principal office of the commission will be in Jefferson City.

A "State highway" is defined as a "highway constructed or maintained at the sole cost of the State, or for which the State has paid a portion of the cost of construction and which has been included in the State highway system."

Establish a State-wide connected system of hard-surfaced roads of approximately 6000 miles, extending into each county, to be located, acquired, constructed, reconstructed, improved and forever maintained as public roads, and the necessary grading, bridges and culverts therefor shall be constructed by the State of Missouri.

Contracts for road construction shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall give bond in a sum equal to the contract price.

Rights of way for roads shall be not less than 50 feet wide, and the surfaced roadway shall be of sufficient width to meet the reasonably expected traffic requirements.

The commission shall designate the routes along which the highways shall be constructed.

The commission shall determine the type and character of construction.

Whenever a State highway runs over a road constructed by a county or road district, or by the State, the Federal Government and a county or road district, the commission shall construct for the county or road district roads equal in value to that taken over by the State.

If any county or road district desires a road of higher type of construction than decided upon by the commission, it may have such road by paying the difference in cost.

The State shall pay for State highways through towns of less than 2500 population and through portions of other towns where houses are not less than 200 feet apart.

Construction of the State highway system shall start at the same time and to the same extent in the State, and on sections of road at least 19 miles long.

Not less than $200,000 of the bond issue money shall be spent in any county.

All roads designated as part of the State system shall be maintained by the State from the time the system is designated.

The commission shall provide for a patrol system to maintain roads.

Provision is made for the issuance of the bonds from time to time, to bear interest at not more than 5 per cent. Entire credit of the State is pledged to the payment of the bonds and interest.

Provision is made for the acceptance of Federal aid on road projects.

by railroad companies, the owners of private property taken to be paid under condemnation proceedings.

The commission is given all the authority it may require in constructing roads, including the purchase of machinery, tools and supplies and the employment of labor.

The bills stipulate that the commission is "authorized, empowered and directed to take whatever steps may be necessary to cause the State highway system to be constructed in the earliest possible time consistent with good business management and funds available."

Power to Designate Routes. The specific stipulation as to power to designate routes is:

"The commission shall designate the routes along which the State highways are to be constructed, and the routes over which the highways are to be constructed, the commission shall take into consideration the directness and persistence of such routes, the volume of construction, probable volume and weight of inter-county and intra-county vehicular traffic and general adaptation to the work and needs of the people of the State. The commission shall file (with each County Clerk in the State, and with the Director of Streets in St. Louis) a description of such routes, showing the termini of each State highway, and shall name the counties and principal municipalities through which such highways pass."

In building a State highway through a municipality, the commission is prohibited from paying for the same surface or more expensive type of construction than is prescribed for the same road up to the boundary of the municipality.

Work to Start at 20 Places. In stipulating that work shall be begun at at least 20 places in the State at the same time, and that at least $200,000 shall be expended in each county, Senator Ralph has attempted to meet the objections raised in some sections of the State that the money was to be spent on a few roads, and that work would be done near the large cities first, leaving the far distant parts of the State waiting for many years for any road work.

Probably one of the most important provisions of the bills is that for maintenance by the State from the time a road is taken into the State system and the establishment of a patrol system.

In Wisconsin Senator Ralph and his delegation of members of the Legislature found the controlling theory of the State Highway Department to be maintenance of roads first, and construction of roads second. He has to a considerable extent adopted that theory, though his bills do not contemplate use of bond money for road maintenance.

Gravel roads, however, are hard-surfaced roads under his bills.

Patrol System Provided for. It was found in Wisconsin that there was a patrol system under which all State roads were patrolled by regular employees, who repaired small breaks before they became big, and who dragged the roads and kept them in good condition throughout the entire year. This purpose of the provision in the Ralph bills is to keep existing roads maintained in the best condition until they can be hard-surfaced.

This action, which undoubtedly will be one of particular interest throughout the State, is:

"When the State highways have been designated by the commission, such roads shall be under the jurisdiction and control of the commission, and the commission shall maintain the roads in a state of repair, and the commission shall have authority to purchase, or otherwise acquire, such roads, or any portion thereof, by contract, which shall specify the nature and character of the work to be done. The commission shall also provide for a system of patrol for such roads, or any portion thereof, by contract, which shall specify the nature and character of the work to be done. The commission shall also provide for a system of patrol for such roads, or any portion thereof, by contract, which shall specify the nature and character of the work to be done."

Senator Ralph said today it was his purpose to call a meeting of the Roads Committee as soon as the Legislature convened, to submit the bills for discussion, and to make minor changes which did not affect the general purpose of the bills. The bills will be introduced, he said, the latter part of next week.

G. O. P. COMMITTEEMEN URGE TAX REDUCTION

People and Business Looking for Action, Congressmen Are Told.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The big point stressed by Republican National Committeemen who gathered here yesterday from all parts of the country was that the "folks back home" are looking to the party in power to cut down taxes. Besides electing a chairman and transacting the routine business for which they came together, these men took it on themselves to talk to Congressmen and Senators and tell them what the country is expecting.

Some long faces were displayed as committeemen got together and talked over prospects for the next congressional campaign. There was general agreement that if the election was to be held tomorrow, many of the districts which went Republican last time would swing the other way.

The average voter, it was pointed out, is not concerned with the subtleties of the international situation, but with getting the staggering burden of taxation reduced. The average voter cannot understand why, in peace time, huge expenditures for the army and navy should continue to be voted by Congress. This was the view that the committeemen impressed on members of Congress.

"For the party's sake, stop talking about economy and do something," was the burden of a lot of plain talk poured into uneasy ears on Capitol Hill.

The Congressmen were told, too, that business interests were restive because little or nothing had been done toward getting a new revenue law passed. Business men, it was reported, want Congress to get down to mulling over the tariff and get down to revenue legislation.

Business was represented as being anxious to know what taxes it will have to pay next year. Price adjustment was said, is being held up because of the uncertainty.

So ran the complaints that the party workers spread about among their fellow committeemen, said, had "gone over great" with the country, but they couldn't say as much for Congress. They gave Congress something to think about.

John T. Adams New Chairman. Election of John T. Adams of Duquesne, Pa., as chairman to succeed Postmaster-General Hays, whose resignation was formally announced, and adoption of a new basis of representation at national conventions resulting in a cut of 23 in the number of delegates from Southern states constituted the official business transacted by the committee.

Adams, who was vice chairman, was succeeded in that office by Ralph E. Williams of Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Leonard G. Woods of Pittsburgh was elected second vice chairman, an office created by committee action in recognition of the women's membership in the party.

HOOPER CALLING IN FOREIGN AGENTS TO DISCUSS TRADE

Government Representatives to Come in Few at Time Instead of for General Meeting.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Secretary Hoover has instructed the Commerce Department's foreign representatives to report to Washington to discuss the overseas trade situation in the light of the proposed reorganization of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, it was said today at the department.

Heads of the offices of the department in the various countries are to report two or three at a time, it was explained, as a general conference is not planned. The Secretary, it is understood, will take up with the men the grouping of foreign trade activities by basic commodities and the idea of altering the territory covered by the foreign offices to conform to commercial lines rather than political boundaries.

COLLEGE MEN IN RETAIL FIELD

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The modern captains of industry is not the self-made man who began saving his money when a lad, but a snappy, college-bred person with university degree—master of business administration. Dr. Donald David, assistant dean of the school of business administration at Harvard, declared today before the Controllers' Congress of the National Dry Goods Association.

"Mops college men are entering the retail field today more than ever before," he said, adding that the retail business is no longer looked upon as "shopkeeping," but as a highly specialized profession.

NEW LOEB FUND OF $50,000 FOR WASHINGTON U.

President of Corporation Announces That and Other Gifts at Sixtieth Commencement Exercises.

DEGREES AWARDED TO 259 GRADUATES

One Honorary Degree Is Conferred and 29 Graduate Nurses Receive Their Diplomas.

President Robert S. Brookings of the Washington University Corporation announced the renewal of the fund for research in comparative pathology and its increase from $27,000 to $50,000, at the sixtieth annual commencement exercises of the university today, when 259 degrees were awarded for classroom work, one honorary degree was conferred and diplomas were given to 29 graduate nurses.

One-half of the fund, which extends over five years and which frequently is referred to as the "Loeb fund," because the medical school's pathologist, Dr. Leo S. Loeb, has immediately jurisdiction over it, is contributed by seven St. Louisans, who together give $5000 a year, and one-half by the General Education Board of New York, which gives $25,000 to cover five years.

It is designed particularly for research in cancer.

The contributing St. Louisans are President Brookings, J. Lionberger Davis, H. L. Elliott, Benjamin Gratz, Frank V. Hammer, Edward Mallinckrodt and John F. Shepley.

It is understood that another recent gift to the university was the endowment of an additional chair in the college department of medicine. Brookings made no reference to this and it is understood that the donor wishes to remain unknown.

Other Gifts Announced.

President Brookings told of the gifts of a building for the school of law and a swimming pool, which have been previously announced. The law building, the gift of Miss Isabel Valle January, is to be erected on the main quadrangle, adjoining Ridgeley Library. The swimming pool, recently donated by Mrs. Newton R. Wilson, is to adjoin Francis Gymnasium on the north side.

It also was announced today that students and alumni of the university have donated $3500 for the memorial tablet for students and alumni who sacrificed their lives in the world war.

Mrs. Wilson made it a condition of her gift that the swimming pool be built at once, regardless of building costs. As to the erection of the law building and of Duncker Hall for the school of commerce and finance, President Brookings said: "The high cost of building material and labor has been such as to make it impracticable to commence construction. We have been hoping from week to week and month to month that the reduction in building cost would approach something of the level of other values, but for some inexplicable reason there has been little or no change."

As is known, Duncker Hall is to be a memorial to Charles H. Duncker Jr., an alumnus, who was killed overseas.

Usual Procession Held.

In accordance with custom, there was a procession of university authorities, the faculty, graduates, students and guests from the campus to Francis Gymnasium, where the exercises were held. There was a strong touch of traditional college color to the procession as it moved across the lawn and under the vaulted trees. The authorities and faculty wore colored scarfs on their black scholastic robes, indicative of various degrees and the graduates followed in caps and gowns.

Prof. E. O. Sweetser of the engineering school was grand marshal. There were 14 divisions, the last of these comprising alumni of the classes of 1901, 1906, 1911 and 1916 in reunion.

At the gymnasium, the Rev. Dr. John W. Day, pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah, pronounced the invocation.

It was the first time that graduates of the university's training school for nurses, operated in conjunction with Barnes Hospital, received diplomas at the commencement exercises. Formerly certificates were given to them at separate exercises.

The university had its largest annual enrollment in the last year and the number of degrees awarded today was the largest ever conferred in one year. Those taking part and many of the guests

SALE OF NEW YORK CANAL BARGE FLEET ENDS ONE U. S. WATERWAY EXPERIMENT

Fleet Will Be Operated by Private Syndicate Which Bought It for $1,000,000—Case Entirely Different From Mississippi Experiment.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—With the winding up of this week of negotiations for the sale of the New York barge canal fleet to a private syndicate, one of the Government's waterway experiments comes to an end. Fifteen steel self-propelled barges, 35 steel barges, 16 reinforced concrete barges and some smaller equipment, the total original cost of which was over $3,000,000, were sold for $1,000,000.

The fleet will be kept on the canal and operated by the purchasing syndicate, which includes E. S. Hughes, a Texas and New York financier, connected with the Seaboard-Gulf Steamship Co.; E. G. Warfield, New York, of the same company; W. L. Williams of the Chesapeake National Bank; J. G. Trainer, New York, and E. S. Walsh, who, as Superintendent of Public Works under the previous administration, had charge of the canal for two or three years. Walsh will manage the line for the syndicate.

All things considered, the price received for the fleet was a fair one, according to Brigadier-General W. D. Connor, chief of the Government's Inland and Coastwise Waterways Service. For several weeks the Government advertised in vain for a purchaser. Finally private negotiations were undertaken, resulting in the receipt of the $1,000,000 bid. From the original cost of the boats, between 40 and 45 per cent had to be written off at acquisition. The war-time inflation in the construction price, allowance had also to be made for the fact that the 16 concrete barges which the Railroad Administration had on the line, passed a law dictating operation. Finally, said Gen. Connor, depressed business conditions made it almost impossible to market the fleet.

It is understood that another recent gift to the university was the endowment of an additional chair in the college department of medicine. Brookings made no reference to this and it is understood that the donor wishes to remain unknown.

continuing disability. An even greater handicap was the popular sentiment against Government operation on the canal. Much of this sentiment was based on the misapprehension, that the Federal Government, instead of merely operating boats on the canal, had taken over from the State the ownership of the canal itself. This impression that the Government was a usurper was widespread. In New York and made itself felt even in Congress.

"It is a shame," said Gen. Connor to a New York Congressman, "that the Government, instead of merely operating boats on the canal, had taken over from the State the ownership of the canal itself. This impression that the Government was a usurper was widespread. In New York and made itself felt even in Congress."

"Well, who's to blame?" asked the Congressman, indignantly. "The Government has taken the canal from us and ruined it."

Government Only Has Barges. As a matter of fact, the Government operated on the canal like a private owner of boats. The canal always was open to competing enterprises. It was partly from these that the opposition to the Government line came. Gen. Connor maintains, however, that private enterprise was not damaged, as the Government line refused to enter into a rate-cutting war, but adhered to a schedule of rates that in many instances was higher than that charged by the private operators.

Another factor militating against the success of the Government line was the lack of terminal facilities. On the whole route, according to Gen. Connor, there is not a terminal adequate for handling freight from an inland barge line.

But even with all the drawbacks enumerated, the line might have succeeded, Gen. Connor says, but for one other handicap which, proved the greatest of them all. This was the fact that the boats, though built to draw 10 feet of water, had to be loaded to draw only eight because of a shallow section in the canal west of Rochester. Through the valley of its length the canal is 12 feet deep, but in all through operations from Buffalo to New York the load had to be adjusted to the weakest link of the chain. Gen. Connor stated that if the boats could have been loaded to their full capacity the results of the line would have been one-half as good.

Mississippi Case Different. In the failure of the New York barge line experiment, Gen. Connor sees no reason for discouragement on the canal. Perhaps the chief lesson to be drawn by the valley from the New York test is that a waterway service to be successful must have the co-operation of the communities it serves. This co-operation, for a variety of reasons, was notably absent in New York.

Gen. Connor is leaving Washington this week as head of a commission appointed by Secretary of War Weeks to inspect the Panama Canal. He expects to be away till about Aug. 1. In his absence, Col. T. Q. Ashburn will be acting head of the Inland and Coastwise Waterways Service.

Harvard Law Dean Declares University Is Servant of Civilization.

Roscoe Pound, Ph.D., LL.D., dean of the law school of Harvard University, delivered the commencement address at the Washington University exercises in Francis Gymnasium this morning. His theme was "The University and Civilization."

Dean Pound declared that the university is the servant of civilization, and that its only duty is to truth. The conclusion of his address, carrying out this thought, was:

"When any sort of rule, temporal or spiritual, political or economic, bids it serve anything other than truth, or stay its search for truth, or accept any version of truth but that to which it is led by the best methods of investigation which it may discover, the university must say to that rule:

"Be it known, unto thee, O King, that I will not serve thee, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up."

"Truth Throwing into Schools."

The speaker referred to the legends made to educational institutions, and said that wealth was pouring into educational foundations as it once poured into monastic foundations. Thus, externally, he said, the public dependence upon education is recognized. Looking under the surface, he added, it may be seen that

MAN FREED THRICE IN 13 MONTHS IS ACQUITTED AGAIN

William Crowe Is Cleared by a Jury of Charge of Taking Part in Street Robbery.

HAD BEEN ACCUSED OF HOLDUP IN CAFE

Other Charges Are Pending Against Him and Three Negroes Are Under Indictment for Their Testimony.

William Crowe, 22 years old, of 730 Baden avenue, has been freed of three robbery charges and one charge of burglary, within the last 13 months, his most recent escape being his acquittal yesterday in Circuit Judge Hall's court of a charge of first degree robbery. Three more charges of first degree robbery, one of burglary and one of carrying concealed weapons, are pending against him.

In the latest case, Crowe was charged with being one of three men who held up Millard Allen Toler of 822 South Boyle avenue on the night of July 21, 1920.

Toler testified that he was walking south on Taylor avenue, between West Pine and Lindell boulevards, when a northbound automobile stopped and one of the occupants pointed a revolver at him and ordered him to throw up his hands. Two other men stepped from the car and took $58 from him. Toler identified Crowe as the man who remained in the automobile and held the revolver. Crowe's mother testified that he was at home sick the night of the robbery and that she nursed him. The jury was out an hour and 45 minutes.

Charge Recently Dismissed.
Another charge of first degree robbery against Crowe, growing out of a holdup at the Manhattan Cafe, 437 1/2 Pinney avenue, recently was dismissed in Judge Hall's court when three negroes who had previously identified Crowe swore on the witness stand that they were unable to recognize Crowe as one of the robbers.

The negroes were indicted for perjury. They were Robert Laseuse, the proprietor of the cafe; Henry Brewster, a bartender, and William Carter, a customer. The cases against the negroes were continued yesterday in Judge Hartmann's court pending the trial of Michael Neurey of 288 1/2 Montgomery street, who was indicted with Crowe in connection with the holdup of the cafe.

Sentence Is Set Aside.
Crowe was convicted in December, 1919, of holding up a woman clerk in the office of the Hannibal Ice and Fuel Co., and was sentenced to a five years' term in the penitentiary. This sentence was set aside by Judge Garesche June 29 last, after the clerk had testified that she was mistaken in her previous identification of Crowe.

May 12, 1920, Crowe was acquitted by a jury of a charge of burglary and larceny, in connection with the theft of automobile tires from the Union Vulcanizing Co.

ENOZ KILLS MOTHS

ENOZ is the only moth-insurance in existence. Use it liberally and thereafter you will be absolutely safe from the ravages of moths. The big wholesale and retail houses which deal in fine furs, woollens, feathers, rugs, carpets and upholstery use ENOZ to save their stocks. It means as much to you as it does to them.

ENOZ positively will not stain or injure the most exquisite fabrics or these big houses would not use it. You can saturate your finest furs and fabrics with ENOZ and the only effect on the garments will be to kill the moth-eggs that are in them.

When you pack away your Winter clothes and furs, spray them first with ENOZ. Then spray the trunk or chest or whatever receptacle you use. After that don't worry about moths. Those that are in there are dead, and no others will come.

After your Spring cleaning, spray your rugs, carpets and upholstery and spray the frames of the furniture. Whatever moth-eggs have been laid therein, will be destroyed. Repeat the spray every two months and the moth-evil in your home is ended for all time.

Moths work twelve months in the year. Millions of tiny eggs are being constantly laid in your clothes and furniture. They hatch into the worms which do the damage. And smells will not bother them. To be rid of moths, you must kill the moth-miller, moth-egg and moth-worm. ENOZ will do it.

If your drug, department or hardware store does not carry ENOZ, write, telephone or telegraph us direct and we will either send it to you or tell you where you can get it.

Price—One pint of Enoz with improved sprayer, $2
ENOZ is also packed in containers for use in large wholesale and retail establishments and manufacturing plants.

UNTERMYER TO ASK DAUGHTERY IF HE HAS MEN TO HELP HIM

Attorney Declares There Has Been
No Action by Department Against Building Combinations.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 9.—Samuel Untermyer, counsel of the legislative committee investigating the Building Trust, announced at today's hearing that he would write Attorney General Daugherty to ask if his department could not spare men and money to prosecute violators of the anti-trust laws.

Untermyer declared the committee had received no co-operation, although it had turned over to the department early last winter evidence against more than 20 illegal nationwide combinations of manufacturers and dealers in the building trades. He added that he was not criticizing the present Federal authorities.

At the same time Untermyer received from the committee authority to request State Insurance Superintendent Phillips to make a special investigation of the Prudential Insurance Co., to bear particularly on private holdings of Forest D. Dryden, president, and "the seeming" nationalization of the company.

TWO CHARGES AGAINST STATE WITNESS IN FUR THEFT DROPPED

Cases Against E. M. Long Jr., Whose Testimony Helped Convict Accomplice, Dismissed.

Two charges of burglary and grand larceny against Everett N. Long Jr., 28 years old, of 5252 Delmar boulevard, were nolle prossed by the Circuit Attorney in Circuit Judge Hartmann's court yesterday.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Jones Parker, who was in charge of the grand jury which indicted Long, explained that Long had been of much service to the State in the case of a co-defendant, Henry W. Bostelman, 24, of 1812 Semple avenue, who on Tuesday pleaded guilty to two charges of burglary and larceny and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on each charge.

Long had confessed to the police that he and Bostelman were implicated in the theft of furs valued at $46,921 from the Famous and Barr store and the Leppert-Ross Fur Co. The furs were recovered by detectives, who found them in phonograph cases ready for shipment to Chicago.

BLACKSMITH ARRESTED IN RAID

Detectives Say They Found Him
Operating Still on Oil Stove.

Joseph Broder, 29 years old, a blacksmith, of 3507 North Twentieth street, was arrested by detectives in a shed in the rear of 223 Butler avenue last night, when they reported they found him operating a still on a coal oil stove. The detectives confiscated seven quarts of alcohol and one quart which, they say, was being distilled when they entered. A truck owned by Broder was used by the detectives to take the liquor and still to headquarters.

Special policemen who visited the home of Marietta Minardi, 5319 Daggett avenue, reported they found a still in operation last night. A small quantity of alcohol and 20 barrels of mash were found in the place. Minardi was not at home at the time.

LAWYER AND DEPUTY CLASH

Thomas Bond Taken Before Judge,
Who Excuses Him.

Thomas Bond, an attorney and a former Circuit Judge, was taken before Judge Grimm in the assignment division of Circuit Court this morning by Deputy Sheriff George Stemp, who declared that Bond had failed to keep quiet in the courtroom after being cautioned. Stemp laid hands on Bond, who had been conversing with a client, to bring him to the bench.

Bond protested to Judge Grimm, saying he had agreed to keep quiet after a caution and asked that Stemp be reprimanded. Bond's client stepped up to say the proceeding was "outrageous" and was told to take his seat. The Judge declined to reprimand Stemp, saying he was only obeying orders, and excused Bond.

FREE A 10-Shave Tube of Palmolive Shaving Cream At Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 7th and Washington Ave.

A Soothing Shave Plus four things more

We wanted to give men the benefits of palm and olive oils in shaving.
We knew these softening, soothing oils were the best for the face—for 3,000 years that had been known. But the problem was to apply their balmy blend to a shaving cream.
It was not easy—though we certainly knew soap making well. Our creation of the finest toilet soap known had proved that.
We made up and tested scientifically 130 different kinds of shaving cream. All other known creams also were tested to learn their virtues and their faults. And step by step, and month by month, we improved formulas until perfection was reached in each quality desired.

Formula No. 130 was right
In this formula we found that at last the ideal shaving cream was attained. It proved superior on these tests:

- Multiplies itself
- Soothes the skin
- Acts quickly
- Maintains itself

We multiplied itself in lather 250 times. Just one-half gram—a bit of cream—proves plenty for a luxurious shave.
The oil coating on the beard is removed almost instantly. Within one minute the beard absorbs 15% of water—enough to soften the stubbornest beard. Such quick efficiency is astonishing.
The lather maintains its rich creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face. Plenty of time to shave.
The palm and olive oils are the supreme lubricant, soft and soothing to the skin. So the need for lotions is ended.

Now test it yourself
Millions have already adopted Palmolive Shaving Cream because of these superiorities.
The coupon will give you a trial tube without cost. *You will be delighted with what it will accomplish for you.

Muslin That Washes Well

To get muslin that looks well after many washings, ask for Fruit of the Loom.

It can be laundered again and again, and, if properly rinsed, will always keep its snowy whiteness and its fine, smooth finish.

This is because Fruit of the Loom is all pure muslin. It is not filled up with the chalky substance that washes out, leaving what had appeared to be a finely woven fabric coarse like cheesecloth.

From generation to generation Fruit of the Loom muslin has been proving itself durable and dependable.

Fruit of the Loom Muslin

You can now buy Fruit of the Loom not only by the yard, but in a number of ready-made articles, nightgowns, nightshirts, sheets, pillow cases, and men's and boys' shirts, made by the best manufacturers, who are using the Fruit of the Loom label.

Make sure you are getting Fruit of the Loom; look for the label. Nearly every good store has it.

MOTORMAN ASKS RELEASE FROM

$3275 CONTRACT HE ASSUMED

N. E. McKinney, whose wife left Estate of About $30,000, Says He Was Imposed Upon.
Testimony was heard by Circuit Judge Perrier yesterday on the petition of Nathaniel E. McKinney of 4641 Delmar boulevard, a motorman, for release from a contract under which he surrendered $3275 of the $22,000 bequest of his wife, Mrs. Annie Meyer McKinney, who died in February, 1929, at Hot Springs, Ark., within a few months after her marriage to McKinney.

Mrs. McKinney, for several years prior to her marriage, was housekeeper for David I. Bushnell of 4234 Olive street. By his advice she made profitable investments and left an estate of about $30,000. Her brothers, John and George, and her sister, Arlene, expected more than the residue she left them, and prevailed upon McKinney to assume out of his share obligations aggregating $3275. He says he did not realize what he was doing and was imposed upon.

COLORADO RAIL AND BRIDGE DAMAGE PUT AT $20,000,000

By the Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., June 9.—That at least $20,000,000 will be required to repair the highways and bridges of the State as the result of recent floods was estimated last night in a statement issued here by Major L. D. Blauvelt, State Highway Engineer, upon his return from an inspection tour of the Colorado Springs-Pueblo districts. His estimate, he said, also was based upon reports of damage received at his office.

"From all reports received at this office," he said, "I am convinced that Governor Shoup's request for $20,000,000 from the Government to be used in restoring the road lines of communication in Colorado is very conservative."

Loss to the Western Union Telegraph Co. in the Pueblo flood area has been officially placed at $150,000. It being added that that figure might be increased by later reports of damage. The company, it was said, has 20 miles of line down between Pueblo and Canyon City.

ZIONISTS GIVE PLEDGE OF LOYALTY TO WORK

Wholehearted Support of Palestine Foundation Fund Promised at Closing of Cleveland Convention.

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—Loyalty to the world Zionist organization and wholehearted support to the Keren Hayesod Limited (Palestine Foundation Fund) were pledged by delegates to the American Zionist organization at the closing session of their twenty-fourth annual convention here yesterday.

Resolutions adopted acknowledge the Zionist congress as the supreme authority in all Zionist affairs and of such other legislative bodies established in accordance with the statutes of the congress, and binds the American organization to decisions of the congress.

Complete co-operation of all Jews and Zionists in the upbuilding of Palestine and that "the controversy over the Keren Hayesod in this country, publicly engaged in by opposing groups within the American Zionist organization came to an end" was urged.

Recommendation was made that the charter of the Keren Hayesod adopted by the London conference, be amended so that the rights of contributors "shall be specifically guaranteed by the charter and statutes thereof," that contributors to the Keren Hayesod be organized by countries, and that in each country or group of countries an annual gathering of contributors or their representatives elect representatives to the council of the Keren Hayesod, which shall meet at least once a year.

All Zionists and Jews are appealed to to proceed with the work for the Keren Hayesod. In order that the foundation of the Jewish national home in Palestine may be laid without delay.

How Zionists Split Over Fund and Later Closed Ranks.

Speaks to Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—The split among delegates at the opening of the Zionist convention here was over the management of the Palestine restoration fund of $100,000,000. This resulted in the resignation of officers and complete reorganization of the administration. The split developed when the annual report of Judge Julian W. Mack, leader of the American organization, urging budgetary control of the fund instead of allowing it to be managed under direction of Dr. Chaim Weizmann of London, president of the World Zionist organization, was rejected at the same time the delegates voted for the temporary chairmanship of the convention. Judge Mack, the other officers and the majority of members of the Executive Committee resigned.

The opposing faction immediately took action to abandon the old plan of administration and to substitute an executive board.

The minority group, under leadership of Mack, convened separately from the convention proper to draft a program of action. A committee was appointed with instruction to meet in New York next week with Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis to complete plans for Zionist work in Palestine independent of the new administration.

During the fight waged over Judge Mack's report, leaders of the administration charged that the Keren Hayesod charter provided for laxity in handling of the Palestine fund. While they did not doubt the integrity of the world organization leaders, they said they wanted more efficient methods than were in vogue in an organization under a one-man head.

Speaking in defense of the world organization administration, Dr. Weizmann declared that he was "a mere prisoner" of the Zionists' movement and that he of all leaders is the most limited in his actions. He admitted that at times he had taken matters into his own hands at the risk of his authority because he was hedged about with obstructionists who criticized but did little for the Zionist cause.

Later, delegates voted unanimously against a split in the ranks, with a pledge of support to the World

Cardinals Bunch 4 of 6 Swats and Tame Dodgers, 4-2

Two Singles, Two Doubles, a Hit Batsman and Two Sacrifice Hits Net 4 Runs in First.

PERTICA ALLOWS 5 HITS

A Single, Two Errors, a Wild Pitch and Three Walks Give Brooklyn Two Tallies.

"Choke 'em Charley" Herzog, in the palmiest days of his rough-riding career, never came near to pressing on the jocular of the opposition as mercilessly as the Cardinals are doing these days. "Show no mercy" is their slogan. "Get 'em down early and soak 'em" is their watchword.

Yesterday they leaped onto Big Jeff Pfeffer's cross fire before it began to cross or fire according to its wont, and slam-banged him for four runs, enough to give them a 4-2 victory, which put the Knot-Holers in a tie for fourth place with the proud champions of Uncle Wilbert Robinson, owner of the biggest out-cure in baseball, coming or going.

Let it be marked and marked well that the Cardinals have won 17 of their last 24 games, that they have climbed from the cellar to within eight games of the top rung in the National League.

Yesterday's contest was unusual in many ways. In the first place, only two pitchers tossed. And they both did nobly. Pfeffer allowed only two hits after that terrible first inning, but had about as much chance to win as Willard did after one round at Toledo. Pertica was wild in the first frame, but he had reason to be a hit so, considering that his fellow toilers committed two errors behind him and that the hit the Dodgers got that frame would be an easy chance for the brilliant John Lavan nine times out of ten.

Pitching Above Par. The two errors, a scratch hit, a wild pitch and three bases on balls gave the Dodgers two runs, and after that Pertica from Los Angeles was master. He allowed five hits in the nine innings and gave only one pass after that hectic first.

Fourier made one of the first-inning errors and the hard-working Jacques made up for it by snaring five fouls which were extremely difficult to capture because of pregame cooling. Once Fourier dropped a brie after a catch, but clung to the leather.

That first inning bomb of the Cardinals was punched to the ninth degree. The men of Ricker were a bit sheepish as they wandered to the dugout after that atrocious first half and went out to make up for their misdeeds.

The First Inning Bomb. Jack Smith opened with a line single to right, as in Tuesday's game. Fourier smashed one just out of Kidluff's reach and Stock executed a perfect sacrifice. Hornsby almost finished his first inning home run of Tuesday, sending Zach Wheat (a left fielder) for his drive, Smith scoring. Schultz tied the score with a double to right center, scoring Fourier, and McHenry was hit by pitched ball. Lavan made up for his previous misdeeds by going a double to right. The ball sliced toward the right field pavilion and Schultz, who without a word had been drawing a throw, Lavan rounded second and started to go back. Griffith pegged to second and Lavan, by some fast sprinting, made third. He was left there, but the details are given to show once more that Dr. Lavan is there with the noodle on the bases.

Therupson Jeff Pfeffer got the range with his prosa and mowed down Ricker's second baseman, before Pertica singled in the fifth. Smith popped into a double play and the only other Cardinal to get a swat was Hornsby, who almost knocked Olson into center field with a line drive in the sixth. Time was called while Lavan brought his hands back to life.

Sherron Smith probably will work for the Dodgers today. Ricker has several to select from. Game will start at 3:15 o'clock. Victory today means an undisputed berth in the first division. Are these our Cardinals? Oh tomorrow, oh Jackie May!

Jim Corbett First To Win a Title in Glove Fight

No. 3—World's Title Classics

The pugilistic crown first worn by John L. Sullivan passed to the head of James J. Corbett on Sept. 7, 1892, in the twenty-first round of their championship fight at New Orleans. Corbett had a lot of fun winning the fight and the $45,000 that went with it. He towered three inches above his champion and continually sent him down at Sullivan in a most annoying manner. Corbett had been a bank clerk before taking the ring seriously.

Corbett's dancing master tactics eluded the powerful but older and poorly conditioned Sullivan and enabled Corbett to pick many openings for his attack.

As the battle unfolded the Californian forced Sullivan to take the defensive. He had the champion draped over the ropes when the bell rang at the end of the twentieth round.

In the next round, Sullivan, beaten down by smacking rights and lefts, tried hard to regain his feet and carry on, but his strength was not equal to his will.

It was the greatest ring battle in the public mind that had ever been staged and good seats were sold for $75 and more.

Value of the Touch in Golf

Vaile Tells How Evans Became Putter

Finger Grip Is the Thing

By P. A. Vaile,

Author of "Modern Golf," Etc.

Touch in golf, even as in billiards, is a wonderful thing. This is particularly true when one comes to putting. Real "touch" cannot be taught, and it is the most important of the club, the delicate sensibility, that is necessary on the putting green. It is essential to have the fingers and thumb working in harmony and, above everything, the forefinger and the thumb.

It cannot be denied that great things have been done by players who use the palm grip. We have the historic cases of John Ball,

Harold Hilton and Sandy Herd before us, but when it comes to putting, the palm gripper who wishes to obtain the best results must and, in the majority of cases, does alter his hold to at least an approximation of the finger grip. If he does not he is liable to fail lamentably near the hole.

The outstanding illustration of touch and lack of touch in putting is Chick Evans. Until quite recently Chick used to wrap his thumb around the shaft of his putter. This naturally meant that his forefinger and his thumb were out of communion.

Now, nature expressly designed to put the forefinger and the thumb opposite each other in ar-der that they might co-operate

Midland Valley Golfer Takes 20-Hole Match—Watts, Stickney and Manion Also Win.

Connection in the championship play of the St. Louis District Golf Association tournament at Glen Echo tightened up considerably in the third round yesterday.

Three of the matches were decided by the narrowest margin, 1 up, while the fourth was closer than the 4 and 2 tabulation would indicate. Today's semifinals bring together Richard Bockenkamp, Midland Valley, and Lawson Watts, Glen Echo, and James Manion, Midland Valley, and Stuart Stickney, Country Club.

Both should be interesting matches, but in view of what has gone before, the two Midland youths are favored to meet in the final.

Kosman Sets Course Record.
Aside from the championship flight play, there was an added attraction on the Glen Echo course yesterday. It came in the shape of a new course record of 68, established by Walter Kosman, Normandy, in his consolation class victory over Roger Lord, 4 up and 3. Lord negotiated the course in a 72.

Kosman's card tied the 68 made by Edward Ray over the old Glen Echo course in 1913, when the distance from tee to greens was shorter than at present. Fred McLeod, a professional, also once made the course in 68.

The Normandie star went out in a 32, four strokes under par. However, he missed short putts on No. 14 and No. 18, bringing his return total to 36, two strokes over par. His hole-in-one score follows:

Out 4 3 4 3 4 3 4 3 32
In 4 3 4 3 4 3 4 3 26

The best match of the day, a contest which attracted a gallery of several hundred persons, resulted in a twentieth hole victory for Bockenkamp, the present champion, over Clarence Wolff.

Watts Taps His Drive.
The victory on the second hole of the second round, came as a result of poor long shots by Wolff. He topped his drive and in trying to make up for it with a brassie, got a bad result. It took a six to go down, while Bockenkamp sank his ball for a winning five.

Manion and Kenney had a great match, Jimmy starting out with a 2 up lead on the first nine. The State champion, continued doggedly, however, and brought "Jimmy" back to even terms. The victory came on the seventeenth, due to a nice finish approach by the winner. The final hole was halved.

HAMILTON ONLY TIGER ENTERED FOR CHICAGO COLLEGIATE TRACK MEET

Special to the Post-Dispatch
COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9.—Brutus Hamilton, the University of Missouri's greatest athlete, will be the only Tiger to compete in the National Intercollegiate track and field meet at Chicago June 18. Coach Robert L. Simpson announced today.

Hamilton's performance at the Western Conference meet in Chicago last week, where he counted 11 points for his team with two second places, a fourth and a fifth, makes it certain that the national pentathlon and decathlon champion will be in the scoring at the national meet, Simpson believes.

At the Western conference meet Hamilton outdid his previous record in both the javelin throw and the broad jump. His javelin throw was 170 feet 11½ inches, and his jump 23 feet 1 inch.

He might have gone into a tie for first place in the pole vault at 32 feet, but a bad takeoff caused him to strike the bar, and he placed second at 31 feet 4 inches.

Hamilton who is now in his second year of collegiate competition, is only 20 years old. He has been chosen captain of next year's track and field team.

Dempsey Partners

Wear Headgear in Practice Work

Is Expected to Guard Against Accidental Reopening of Champion's Wound.

WHEELHOLDER IMPROVES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—The Dempsey camp, Jack Dempsey's training headquarters, will be compelled to wear head gear when boxing is resumed, to lessen the danger of reopening the wound over the champion's left eye, which was split open Sunday, when Larry Williams butted him trying to evade a punch. Since then Dempsey has done no work with the gloves.

Jack Kearns, manager of the title holder, said today that Dempsey would resume boxing on Saturday, and the wound continues to heal nicely. New skin has formed over the gash and the stitches taken in it have been removed. Dempsey wears a great deal of time exposing the sun to hasten its healing.

"I could resume boxing now," Dempsey said today, "as the wound is healing me any pain, but there's no taking any chances until it is thoroughly healed. It would be a mark for Carpenter to shoot at if I were forced to go into the fight with my eyes in a tender condition. I don't want that to happen. I might be blinded by the flow of blood."

Jamaica Kid Begun It.
The wound was first opened when Dempsey was training in Toledo for a championship match with Joe Ward two years ago. The Jamaica kid, a 155-pound negro sparring partner, butted Dempsey at that time, giving a gash about an inch long at the edge of his eyebrow on the left side.

Jack Renault, a heavyweight in the champion's camp, reopened the wound about two weeks ago and it was the most nicely until Williams' blow and it was closed with Williams' hand.

Dempsey Practices Shift.
Dempsey, with boxing off the program, is concentrating on his famous left. He stands before a heavy punching bag, first shifting for a right hook and then landing a left. The champion is timing his blows accurately and hitting sharply with his left force.

CHAMPION'S TWO-IN-ONE LEFT-HAND PUNCH HAS CAMP FOLLOWERS AGAPE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—Overhauling the cut over Jack Dempsey's left eye and the possibility of attending it when he faces Georges Carpentier at Jersey City July 2, is the growing comment on a wonderful improvement he has shown with his left hand in the training bouts with his heavyweight sparring partners.

Always a good right handed hitter, Dempsey has displayed such marked accuracy and power in delivering his port side punch that even old-timers have marveled. Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, gave credit for the development of the left hand.

Kearns tied his protege's right arm to his side and forced him to strike the bag daily with his left. Dempsey is constantly hooking and swinging with his left hand while shadow boxing and running on the road.

Dempsey's double hook with his left made even Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, one of the craftiest of all boxers in his day, gasp with astonishment.

"He hits twice with one punch," O'Brien said after a workout.

In the early fighting days Dempsey used a nice left but always to the head. Now he hooks first to the stomach, throwing all his force behind it, and even before his opponent has time to step back he sends the same left to the jaw. It is a tremendous blow, or a pair of punches, experts agree.

CARPENTIER SUSPECTED OF HIDING REAL POWER IN EXHIBITION BOXING

By the Associated Press.
MANHASSET, N. Y., June 9.—Folks about who would like to view Georges Carpentier going through his paces during his secret training sessions, but can't, have expressed the opinion that the challenger is fooling the public. They believe he has more up his sleeve than he is willing to let the world in general know about, and that his somewhat listless attitude when boxing for newspaper men is but a ruse to conceal his real power.

While the French champion is not always listless before the critics, he has thus far refused to effectively demonstrate just how he is going to conduct his offensive campaign when he enters the ring with Dempsey. Apparently that is only half the story.

From all indications Carpentier will continue to let the public wonder how many tricks he brought in from the little bag from Paris.

There is no doubt that the debonaire fighter has a race track full of tricks, for he occasionally seems to forget himself when the newspaper men are watching him, and displays some of the traits that have made him famous.

During his secret sessions, however, he is known that Carpentier takes his work more seriously. Just what he does, however, Manager Descamps, who is Georges' own business, has declared that the public will know the result of these private sessions in the ring when they see the end of Georges in action on July 2.

"Carpentier Hit Me Harder Than Sam Langford Did," Jeanette Says

Frenchman's Negro Sparring Partner Tells Edgren About Knockdown Suffered in Paris, When He Fought Georges—Joe's Manager Declares He Thought His Man Had Lost.

By Robert Edgren.

MANHASSET, L. I., June 9.—Carpentier isn't as serenely unconscious of criticism as we have come to believe. He reads what is printed about him in the public press. He is anxious to make a good impression in America. His secret training methods have not been taken to kindly, and under his smiling exterior the gallant Frenchman has been a little worried.

"In France it is so different," M. Mallet of his camp explained to me. "There Georges always trains privately for his fights. He works better that way. Here it is even more important. The only object of all his training is to beat Dempsey. We would like to adopt the American custom and try to please everyone, but it is impossible to let anything interfere with making him fit to win the championship. We can't change his usual way of training. In France or England they would not expect it."

A couple of days ago Descamps made a concession. "If you like you may today show them that you can hit,"

Dropped Jeanette With Left.
Carpentier smiled. That's how it came about that Carpentier uncorked a few real punches. It was in the first round with Jeanette that he let one go. Spectators have said it was a right-hander on the chin. But in fact it was a left. Jeanette was sparring in his usual way, crouching a little, shooting out a curving left.

Carpentier, moving swiftly and also crouching, timed Jeanette's blow and beat him to it with a left like a lightning flash. The result was so sudden and surprising that few knew which hand struck the blow. Jeanette's feet left the floor. His burly body half somersaulted in the air, so that he fell on his shoulder and rolled quickly over, stunned for an instant, and motionless. Carpentier leaped in to drag him to his feet. Jeanette came up with a sheepish grin, and it was several seconds before he was steady enough to resume boxing.

When Joe Met Georges in France.
I met Joe when he was dressed and ready to start home.

"Didn't I tell you that boy can hit?" he chuckled. "It's lucky for me that he caught me high, here on the cheek bone. Turned me right over in the air. I didn't know what had become of my feet. Do you remember I told you that time when I came back from France how this boy hit me harder than Sam Langford ever did and came near taking me with one punch? I don't think you believed it then. Now you see how he does it."

I happened to meet Dan McKettrick, who managed Jeanette when he fought Carpentier in France. "Sure," said Dan. "I told you years ago that Georges came near knocking Joe for a one-round finish. You know how fast and hard Joe could hit with that left. At the beginning of the fight he kept jabbing the Frenchie, and Carpentier took him with a studious look in his face and didn't try to keep away."

"Joe landed three or four and then it happened. Carpentier was worked out the answer right there in the ring. Joe started his left and Carpentier aloped it with a little step to right and shot a short right uppercut under Joe's armpit and nailed him flush on the chin.

"Joe went down in a heap, limp. He needed the whole nine seconds and I think he was lucky to get up in time. Georges nailed him again and had him bad in the seventh or eighth round. I was the most surprised man in the place when the referee gave Joe the decision. I thought Carpentier won."

"I think Dempsey can take him; but if Jack thinks this is soft he's likely to bump into a surprise."

Jeanette thinks that Carpentier is able to knock down any man he gets a fair shot at.

Snap to Georges' Punch.
The hardest punch Sam Langford ever hit me was in Boston when Sam cracked me on the nose and broke my cheek bone. Georges' square off," said Jeanette. "But that only dazed me and hurt me for a few minutes and I went right on fighting. Georges dropped me with a punch and came near keeping me down. I didn't know what struck me when I dropped. I don't know how long I was out, but there's a snap in it that dazes you."

Carpentier's French sparring partner, Journee, is a big fellow with a thick neck and heavy jaws. I saw Carpentier shoot a short right to his chin and have to hold him up as he fell forward into a clinch.

All of the Frenchman's exercises seem designed to give power to his punch. When he works on the bag he alternates fast hitting and blows into which he puts a sudden heavy jolt that sends the leather bounding viciously. He hits as hard with his left as with his right—perhaps harder. And his timing of punches is perfect.

Forearms Better Than Fists.
Carpentier has remarkable forearms and thick, very large hands. His forearms are rounded with muscles that show in bunches under his smooth, white skin. Bob Fitzsimmons didn't have as good a machine for delivering heavy blows. Dempsey's exceptionally big forearms and big hands are no better.

I've heard innumerable opinions that the Frenchman won't go a round with Dempsey. But any man with Carpentier's physique and condition, quick mind and experience, speed and hitting power has a fighting chance.

Bid of $100,000 For Man o'War's Brother Refused

Playfellow, Indifferent as Two-Year-Old, Is Now Showing Fine Racing Form.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Scorned last year as being only the little brother of a truly great horse—as a false alarm, a bitter disappointment and "not worth a nickel"—and this year having $100,000 cash offered for him, is the story of Playfellow, full brother to Man o'War, who has fallen heir to the prominence of his famous brother, the undisputed champion of America.

Both are by Fair Play out of Mahuba. Man o'War, a 4-year-old, is now doing stud service at a farm owned by S. D. Riddle of Philadelphia. He cost $5000 as a yearling. The price was comparatively small for so great a potentiality, because Man o'War, while climbing into favor, had not yet established himself as ranking among the really great.

Yesterday J. P. Johnson, owner of the Quincey stable, in whose colors Playfellow runs, refused an offer of $100,000 for the horse at Belmont Park and remarked: "That's the third offer I have refused for him of the same kind in four days."

Playfellow can be bought, but the price must go higher, probably to $125,000.

Has Won Two Good Races.
Just one week ago yesterday Playfellow won his first race, beating three ordinary horses and running the mile in 1:37 1/5. On Saturday he beat a slightly stronger field in even more commanding style. On these two races his sudden fame now rests, apart, of course, from his breeding and his close relationship to Man o'War.

All last season as a 2-year-old he disappointed in one race after another.

John E. Madden, reckoned by many as the ablest student of blood lines in America, said yesterday that Playfellow is worth $100,000 as a stock horse, apart from any races he may win as a 3-year-old.

CARPENTIER'S HOPE IS IN LONG RANGE TACTICS, MANAGER ONCE ASSERTED

(Copyright, 1921.)
PARIS, June 19.—Judging from statements to the Paris newspapers on his return to France after the Carpentier-Levinisky fight, Descamps, Carpentier's manager, is by no means confident that the Frenchman can defeat Dempsey.

"Dempsey will try to break down Carpentier's defense right from the start," Descamps is quoted as saying recently. "If he succeeds I would not give much for Carpentier's chances. But if Georges can keep away and can find a little opening to land a right on the jaw of Jack, I wouldn't give much for the American's chance of victory."

Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight champion, professes himself much sinner of Carpentier's. "Georges ought to win," he explains. "Of course he is not stronger than Dempsey, but his blows are more formidable, because of their superior accuracy."

French fight fans continue to be fairly confident that their countryman will win, and are ready to wager large sums on that prospect.

Britton - Barrieau Draw.

Frenchman's Manager Thinks Coming Battle Will Be First International Fight Between Two Truly Great Battlers.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 9.—Had a nice little chat with M. Descamps yesterday, he on one side of this barbed wire entanglement at Manhasset and Ye Scribe on the other.

M. Descamps looked very glacial when we pulled our "million-dollar smile."

"Monsieur," he said, after a few verbal sparring preliminaries, "will you tell me why American newspaper men do not talk much of Georges' small and Dempsey's big?"

"And here Descamps first outlined the propositions of an aldorman and then struck one of those old Joe Goss fighting poses so popular on the Bowery 30 or 40 years ago."

"Ziss, Monsieur, is zee fairst time—that you call it—zee first time great men, two great men of different countries meet. Fairst real international fight. But beeg and teeny lak Sullivan and Corbett, we offered."

WORKING OF FOREIGN TRADE INDEMNITY PLAN EXPLAINED

George R. Meyercood, President of Illinois Manufacturers' Association, speaks on Subject to Business Men.

George R. Meyercood of Chicago, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, spoke last night in the Annex Hotel before the World Trade Club, the St. Louis Manufacturers' Association and the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce on the working of the foreign trade indemnity plan of the American Manufacturers' Foreign Credit Insurance Exchange.

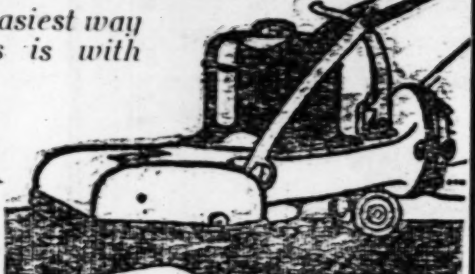

The exchange indemnifies manufacturers against loss through credit to foreign buyers. Meyercood said that the plan would give American manufacturers the necessary assurance to venture into foreign trade. He predicted foreign trade supremacy for America within a few years. The Exchange also protects foreign buyers and honorable American manufacturers from misrepresentation of goods and other bad practices on the part of a few manufacturers.

Consider Your Clotnes

HAVE you ever stopped to think of the part petroleum plays in converting raw material into the fabrics which are used to make your suit of clothes? From the wool on a sheep's back to the clothes on your back is a long journey and petroleum shortens it at every step.

By machinery lubricated with petroleum, a man may shear from 175 to 200 fleeces a day. By the old method, 50 fleeces would be considered a big day's work.

After leaving the sheep, the wool passes through ten major processes before it is ready for the tailor. Each of these require the use of intricate machinery, having bearings which run at speeds varying from 350 to 12,000 revolutions per minute.

From the clipper to the last finishing machine, a diversity of mechanical conditions exist, each of which has been studied and experimented with, and a lubricant found which meets exactly the needs of the machinery.

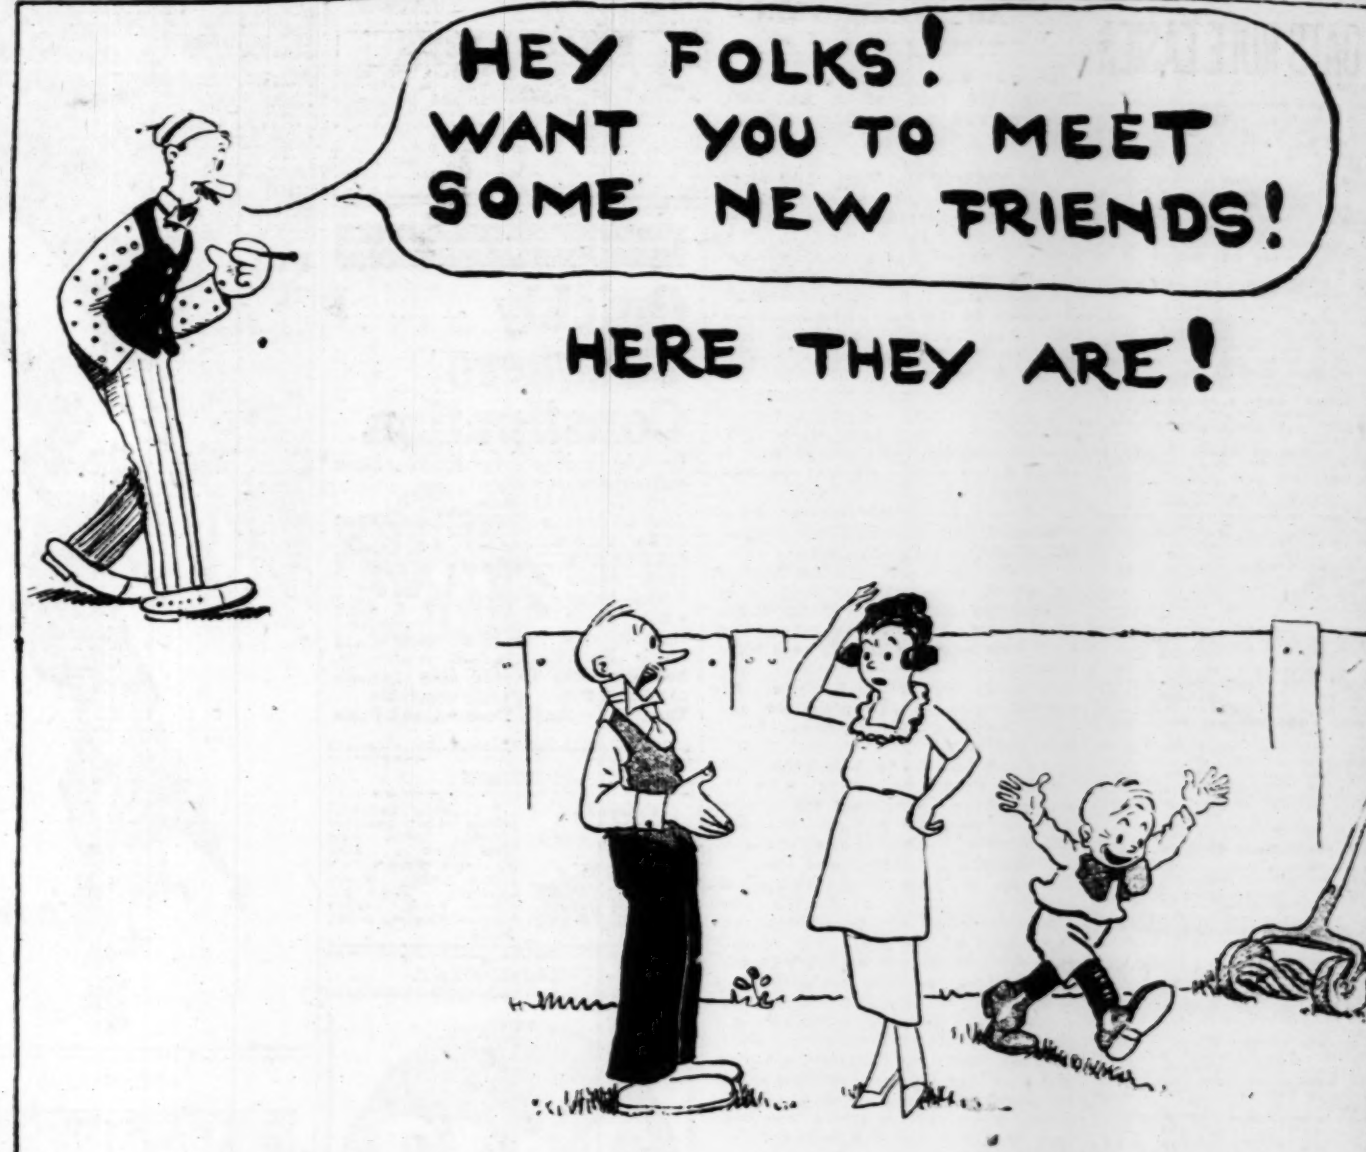

In solving these lubricating problems, and manufacturing oils and greases which enable these machines to perform their work, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) always has been among the leaders.

Its staff of carefully trained chemists, refiners, and lubricating engineers are constantly at work, devising new and more efficient means of reducing friction.

This Company computes its success not wholly upon its balance sheets, not wholly upon the number of useful products it manufactures, but rather upon the fact that many of the useful products of petroleum are made from material which otherwise would be wasted, and are made by processes which were evolved in the Company's laboratories.

MONDAY WILL BE "ZOO NIGHT!"
BEAR PITS TO BE DEDICATED

Grounds Will Be Specially Illuminated—Band Concert and Dancing to Be Held.
The Zoological Society will hold its third annual "Zoo Night" at the Forest Park Zoo next Monday from 7:30 to 10 p. m. when the new bear habitat is to be dedicated. The habitat, which is constructed of camouflaged artificial rock, is built against a hillside and apparently has no barriers to restrict the bears, which, in reality, will be restrained by a hidden moat.

The zoo grounds will be specially illuminated for "Zoo Night" and there will be band concert and dancing. The Zoological Society, which is active in support of the world's zoo, has 235 members and desires to increase this number to 500. George E. Dieckman is president. He is also vice president of the Zoological Board of Control, which operates the zoo under the city.

The Zoological Society has completed arrangements to take 4813 children from the congested districts for a day's outing at the zoo soon, as previously announced.

Assistant Attorney-General Otis Says
Legislature Cannot Extend Franchise to Them.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Assistant Attorney-General Otis in an opinion given today to the Board of Election Commissioners of St. Louis, held invalid a section of the registration bill passed by the last Legislature which sought to extend the voting franchise to foreign-born women who had declared their intention of becoming citizens.

Otis, in reply to a question as to whether the Legislature had the right to enact the section, said: "Inasmuch as the Constitution of Missouri limits the franchise to citizens and to males who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, it follows that the Legislature cannot extend the franchise to females who are not citizens."

The effect of this is to hold that foreign-born male persons who have declared their intention to become citizens can vote, but women of the same class cannot. There will be voted on at the November, 1922, election a constitutional amendment to deprive foreign-born male persons of the right to vote, notwithstanding that they have declared their intention of becoming citizens.

Higher Intra-State Rates Sought.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Suits were filed in the United States District Court here yesterday by the Missouri Pacific, Cotton Belt and St. Louis and San Francisco Railroads asking for injunctions against the Missouri Public Service Commission to compel the commission to accept higher intra-state rates between points in Southeast Missouri. About 16 towns in that section of the State are affected.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

WHY THEY DO IT.

A moralist declares that if he could run a beauty parlor he could enhance the spiritual grace of all women who patronized him.

When Dolly gets her lip stick out
And with a dainty touch
Accentuates the little pout
That folks admire so much.
And casts a soft approving glance
Upon her pretty face
She merely does it to enhance
Her spiritual grace.

When Dolly gives her dimpling cheeks
The color of the rose,
And with a dab of powder streaks
The apex of her nose,
And sticks a tiny plaster pad
Upon a tiner mole,
Her actions only serve to add
A glory to her soul.

When Dolly artfully has made
Her wealth of wavy hair
A lighter and a lovelier shade
Than that she used to wear,
And trims her glossy locks around
The tongs, to make 'em curl,
There is no doubt that she is bound
To be a better girl.

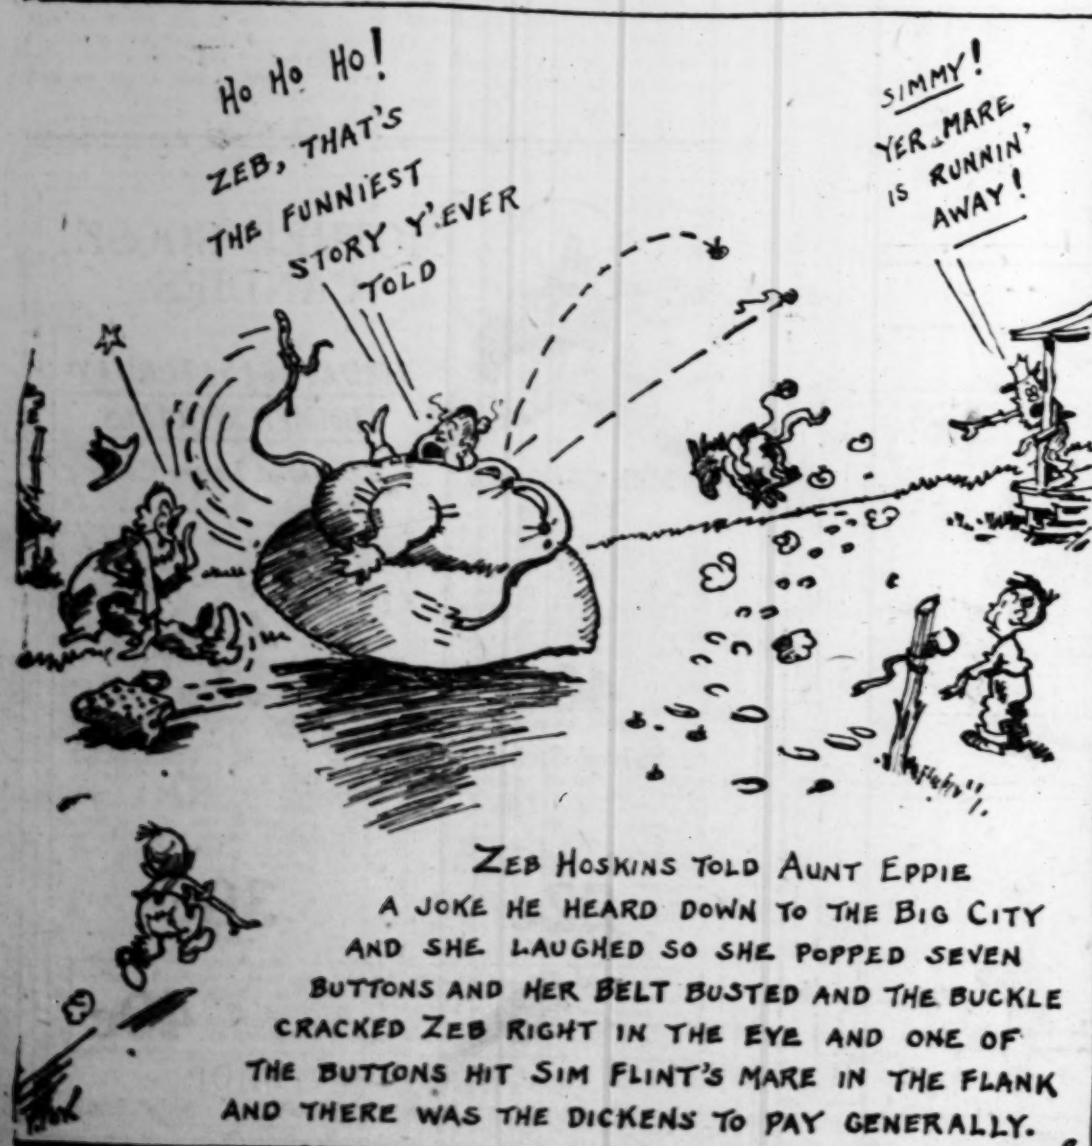

For inward grace with beauty grows
The moralist declares,
And that is why she dabs her nose
And tints her cheeks and hair,
For mends their beauties to conceal
The tongs, to make 'em curl,
There is no doubt that she is bound
To be a better girl.

First Artist: I painted up a lump of pig iron once to look like cork and, by George, when I threw it into the water it floated.

Second Artist: That's nothing! I painted a lump of pig iron to look like a roast of beef and my dog ate three-quarters of it before he discovered his mistake.—Boston Transcript.

Stenographer: Sure, but I wasn't interested because I am getting that already.

Employer: Yes, but the ad said "earn"—Farm Life.

President Johnson Say
Prices Seem to Be To High for Those Intende to Benefit by Plan.

The Home and Housing Association, organized with a capital of $2,000,000 to help solve the housing situation in St. Louis by building homes and offering them for sale at approximate cost, has ceased activities because it cannot sell the houses it has on hand.

Jackson Johnson, president of the association, announced this afternoon that the corporation would suspend, but would stop building houses for a while and await developments.

The association has built 12 houses in different sections, some of them in St. Louis County. It has sold 101. For the 26 still on hand there does not seem to be a demand.

"Demand Exaggerated."
The reported demand for homes, said Johnson, "seems to be exaggerated. There is no demand for the 26 that we have."

The association has expended about $1,000,000 in building. At first an initial payment of 10 per cent was required. When complaint was made that this was too much the terms were modified and Johnson says the association has been selling houses almost on the people's own terms. Although no profit has been made the complaint has been that the prices are too high for the working people whom the plan was especially intended to benefit. Many of the purchasers of homes were salaried persons.

Terms Equivalent to Rent.
The houses were built in different sizes and designs. The inducement offered were, in addition to the small initial payment, easy monthly payments, equivalent to rent, including principal and interest. The payments were so arranged that the would pay for the house at less than it would rent for.

Persons who could pass a satisfactory physical examination, were given life insurance policies covering the amount of the indebtedness. Nelson Cunliff, who was manager of the association, has been appointed Director of Public Welfare and will take up his new duties next Thursday.

MRS. BERGDOLL PAYS $23,000
IN FINES; WON'T BE IMPRISONED

Sentences of Five Defendants Were to Be Enforced If Money Was Not Paid.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the Bergdoll brothers, convicted assassins, saved herself and her five co-defendants charged with conspiracy to aid Grover C. and Edwin Bergdoll to evade army service, from going to jail, by paying today $23,000 in fines recently imposed by the United States District Court here.

A certified check drawn by Charles A. Braun, one of Mrs. Bergdoll's sons, who changed his name, was given to the clerk of the court "under protest." It is understood appeal from the conviction will be taken.

Mrs. Bergdoll, Braun and James E. Romig, a friend of the family, were sentenced May 13 to a year a day in prison and fined $1000 each and Harry S. Schuh and Albert Mitchell, an automobile salesman, were sentenced to six months' imprisonment and $1000 fine. Court, however, announced that the fines were paid before June the prison sentences would be mitigated.
